Genesis . . . a new beginning

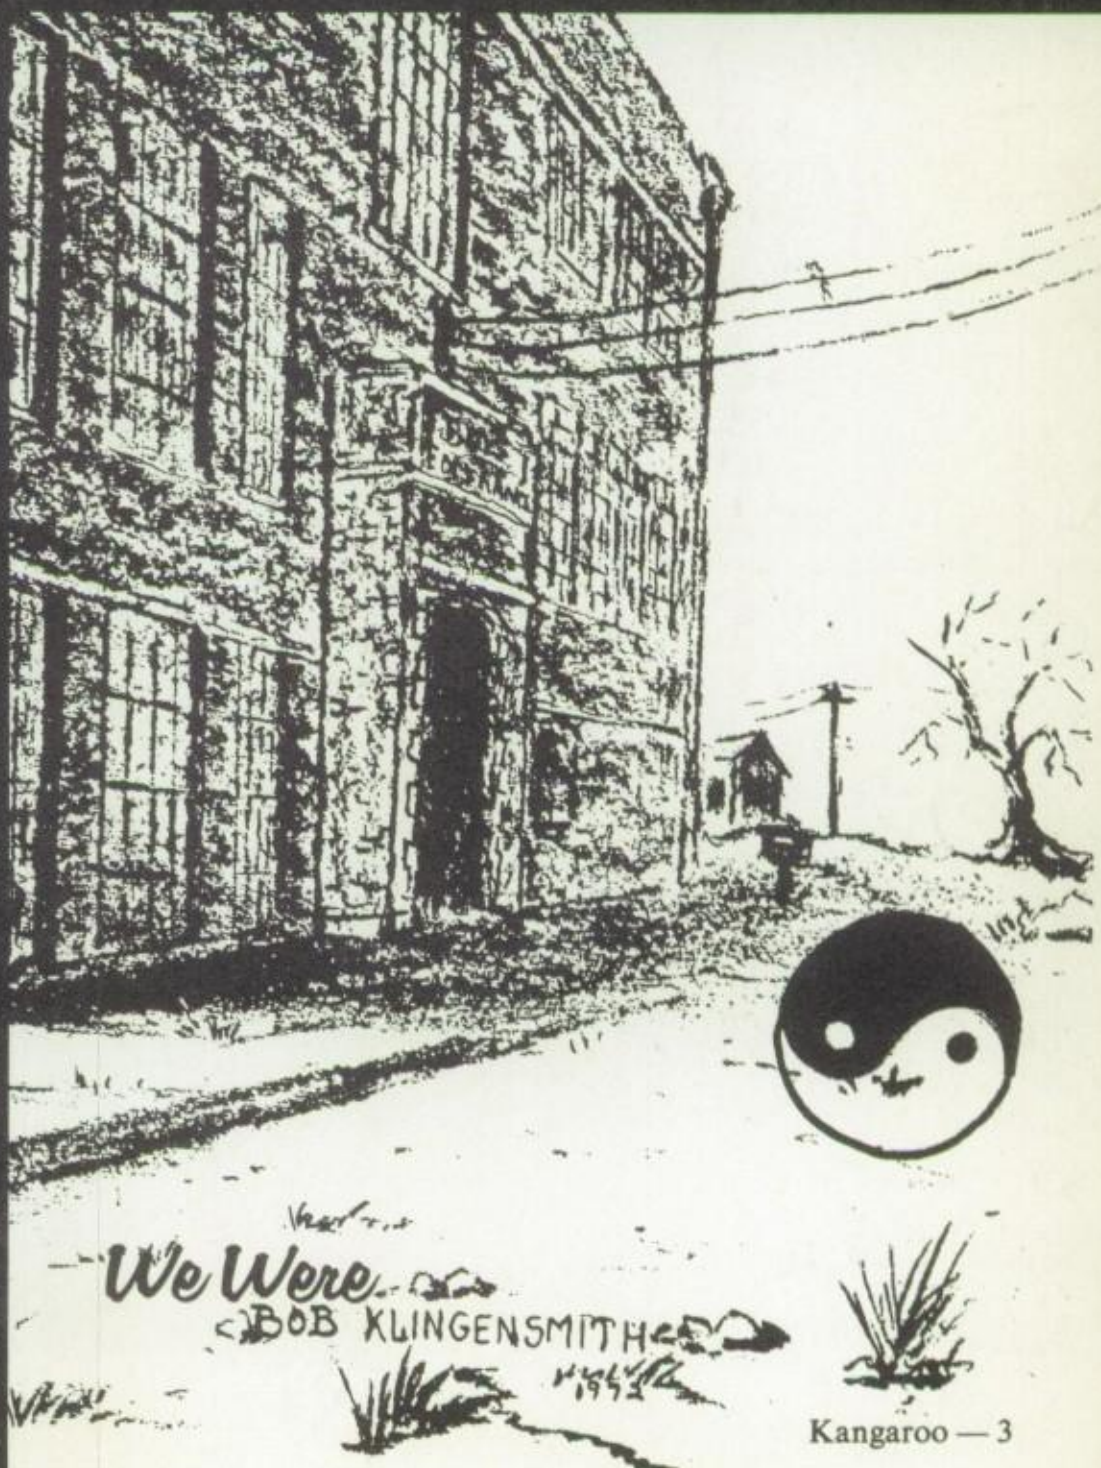

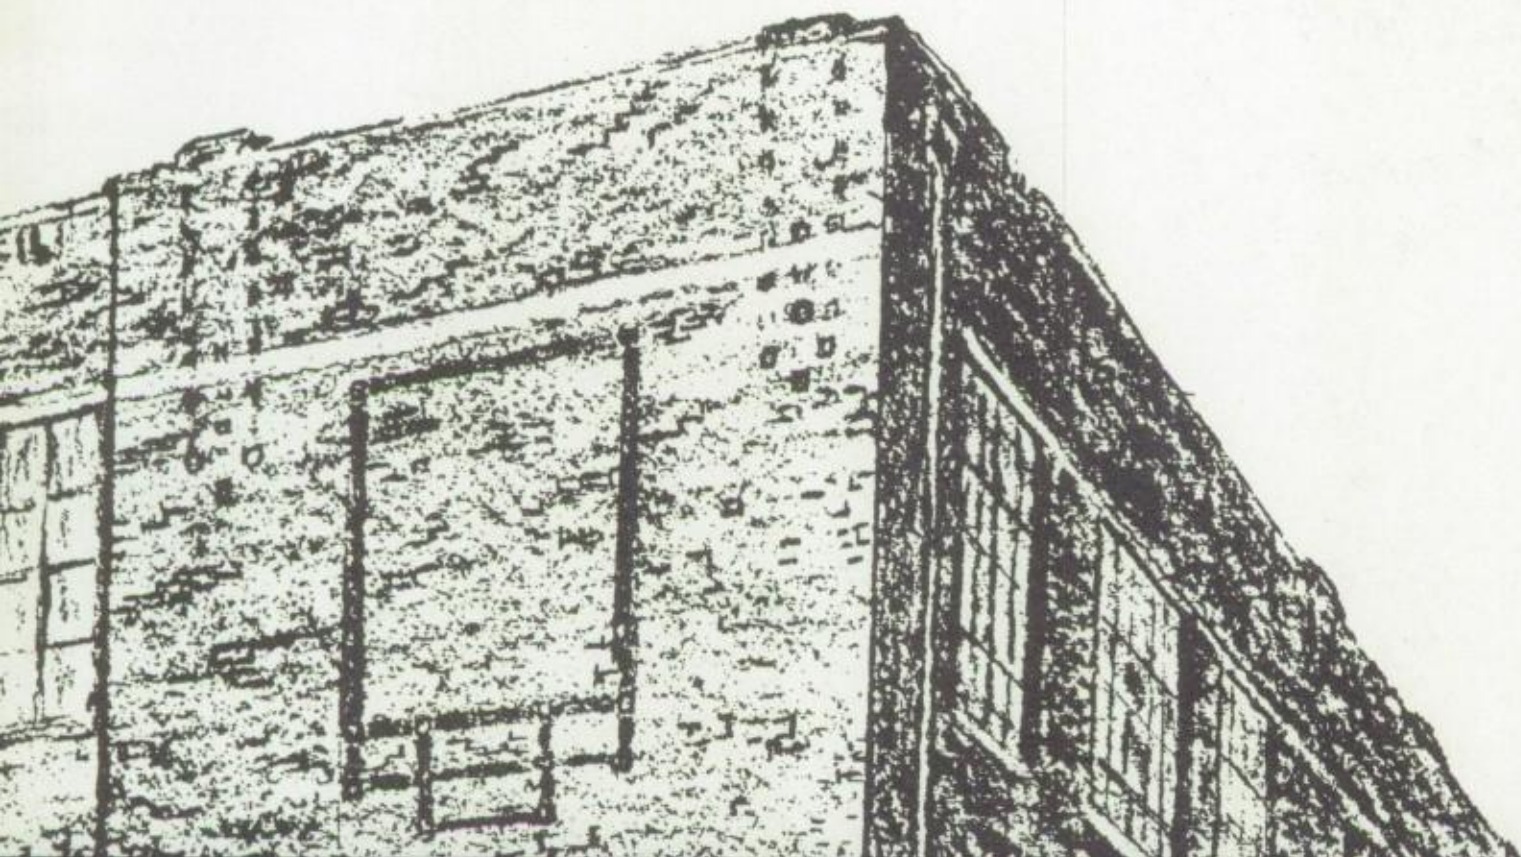

The top four grades of the Killeen Independent School District voted in 1972 to start the 1974 school year on the quarter system. This necessitated much preplanning, plus many hours of hard work because this was two years ahead of the plan devised by the state legislature. This ahead-of-schedule decision brought about a situation of no textbooks or teaching units designed for the quarter system. Out of necessity KHS teachers set out to devise their own unique program. Courses as varied as the students' needs were developed, submitted, and approved. In addition to the usual rush of the spring, the mass changeover to a quarter system and computer scheduling loomed ahead. The first noticeable change began with students choosing courses they wanted to take. The course offerings for the schedule were prepared. Pre-registration was begun with many teachers being alerted to what they would teach. The regeneration of an old idea—public school education. In addition to all of this newly scheduled changes, there were three newly elected principals—Mr. Bob McMinn, head principal, and assistants, Mr. Bob Caskey, and Mr. Roy Hunt. Summer came. Mr. Caskey along with two counselors prepared for the regeneration of this new life—school. August brought registration and the beginning of school. During the next twelve weeks the computer played with KHS schedules. Administrators, teachers, secretaries, and students experienced the beginning of a new era. The birth of computer scheduling. Through all the preplanning, rescheduling, reshuffling, there emerged a fertile hope of a new beginning. The objectives remained the same, but the route we chose varied. It was Genesis . . .

IT'S A LONG LUNCH

Donna Bair walks slowly to her fifth period class as lunch period ends.

Sandra Vale expresses the grief that all drivers must feel after an accident at lunch.

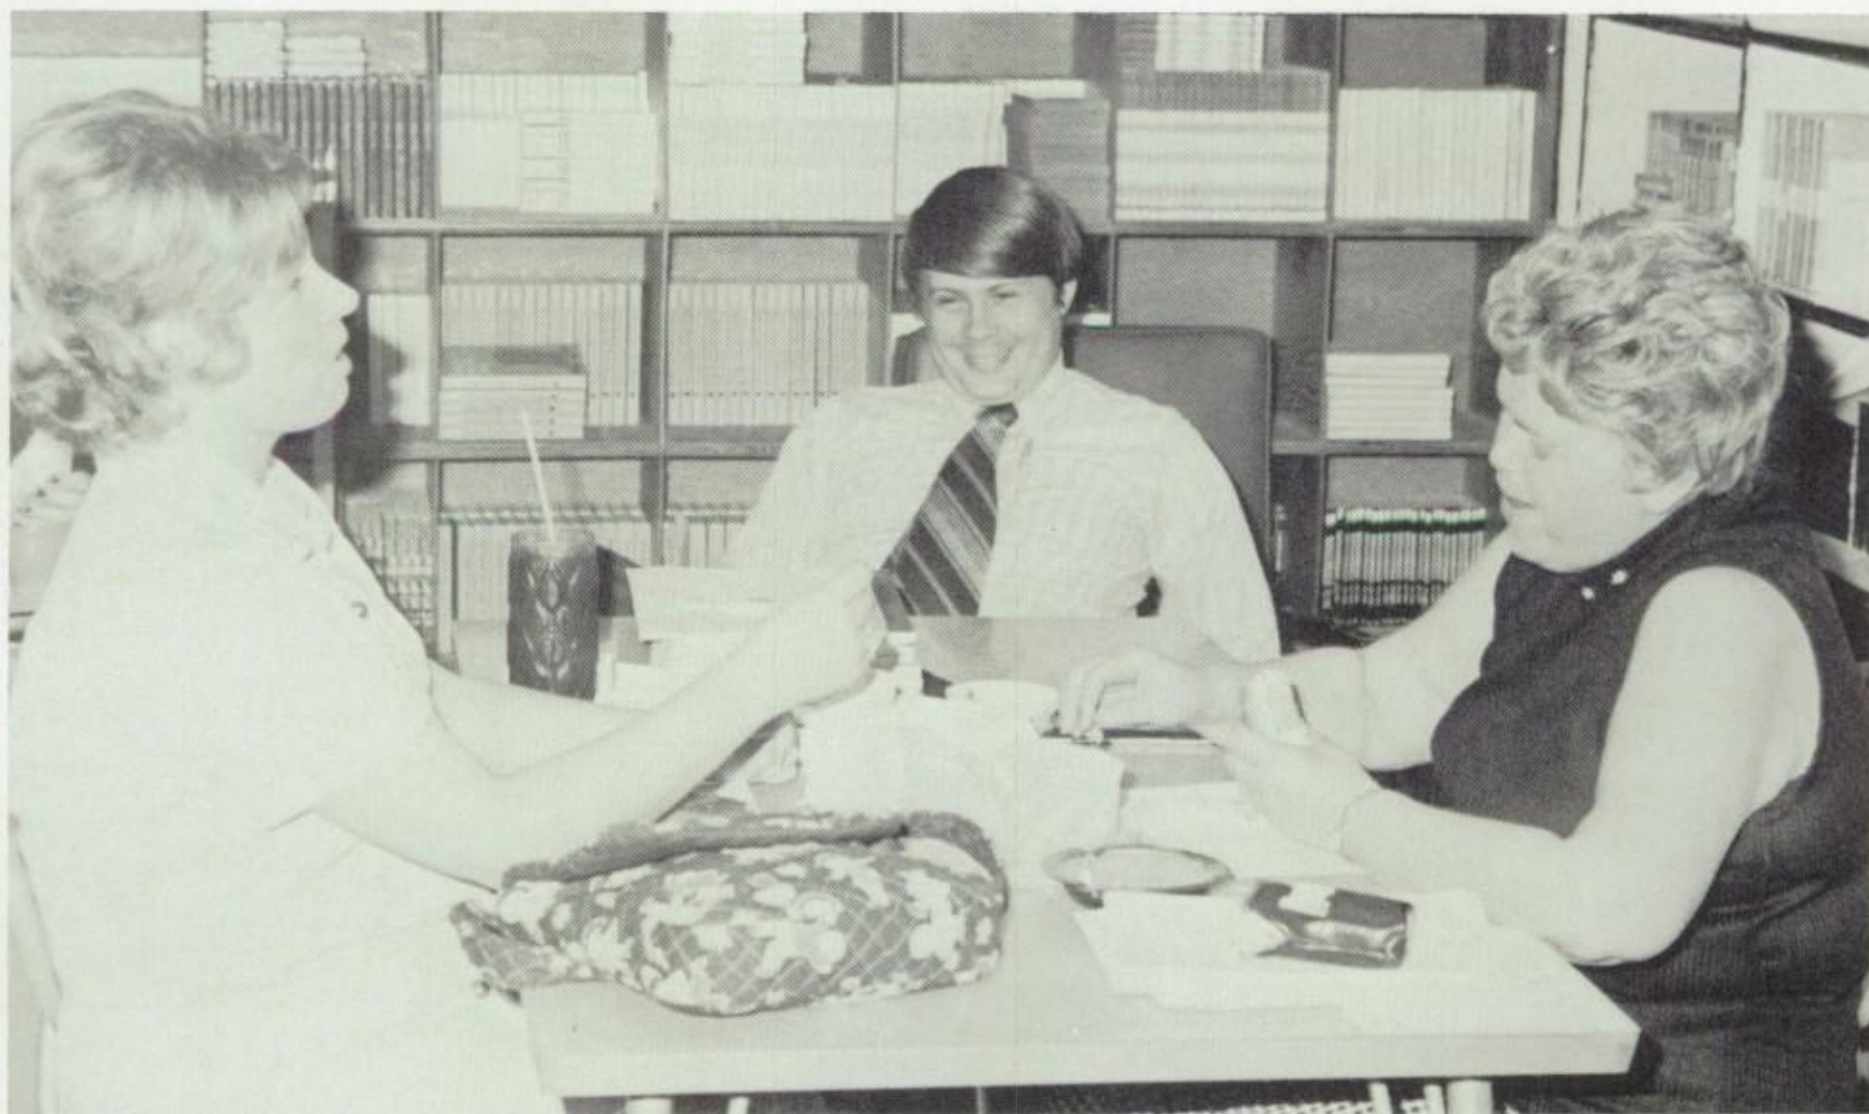

Junior Sharra Ware stops to talk during lunch.

Killeen students find getting back to school on payday virtually impossible.

Lunch hour 73-74 was longer than lunches in the past and consisted of two lunch periods compared to last year's three. Both lunches lasted twenty-five minutes longer than before, giving students more time to go where they pleased and to do what they wanted to do. Many students got more time to go to their favorite burger joint or pizza place, although getting back to school was still hard to do.

People without cars were forced to eat at school while their extra time was usually spent just goofing off or taking a short siesta. Diligent students used the time wisely by studying in the library or catching up on late assignments.

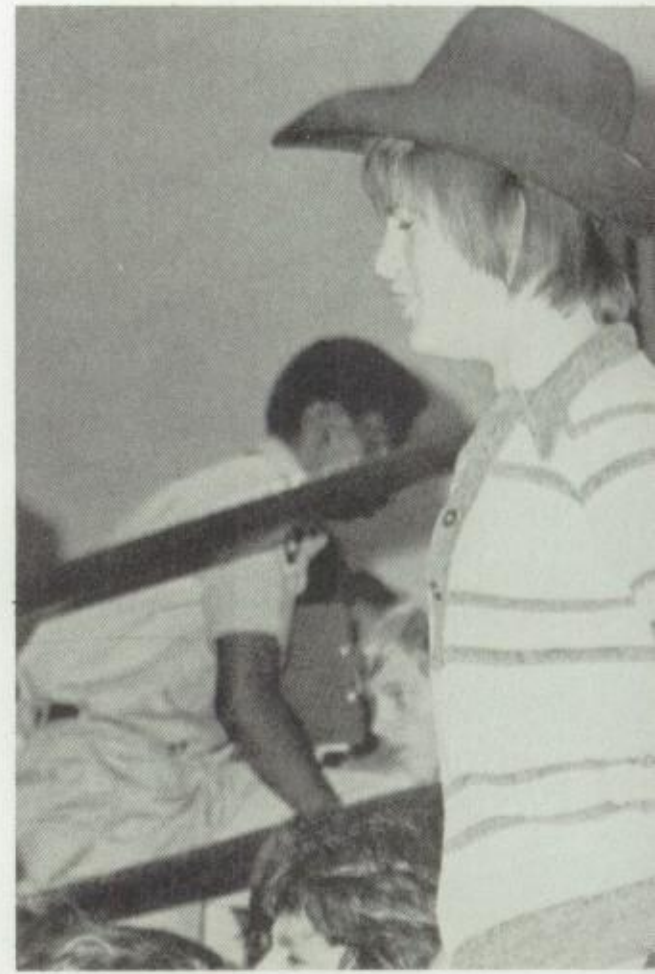

Mrs. McKelvain, Mr. Terry, and Ms. Patterson relax after a long morning's work.

HATS TOP OFF SCHOOL YEAR I

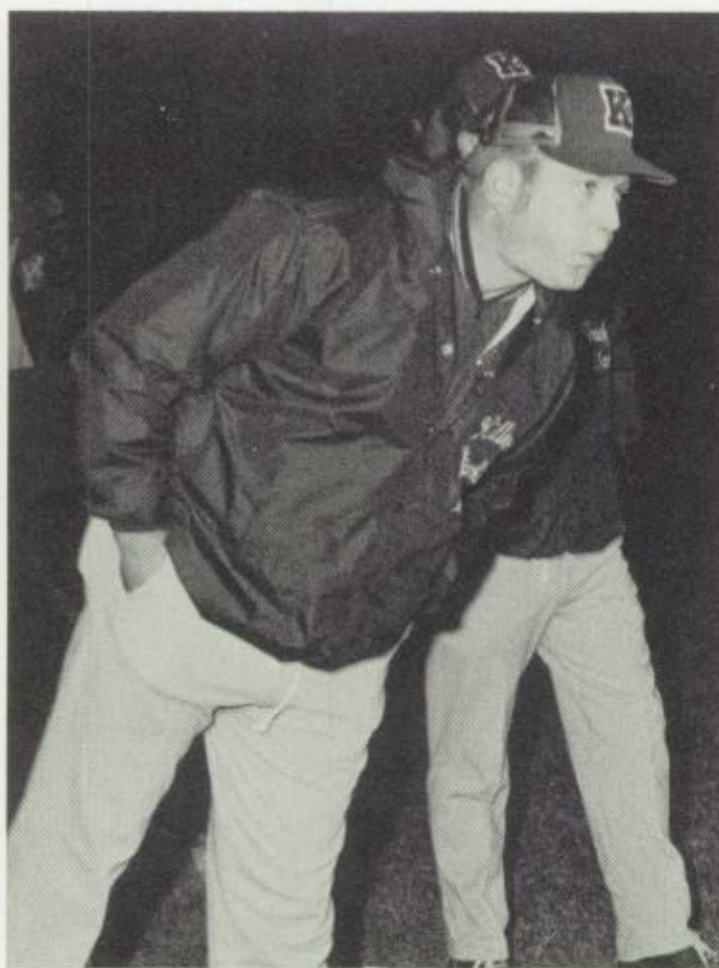

Barbara Rush dons a cycle helmet for participation in her favorite sport.

Bobby Stubblefield stands to lead the senior ch

Kanga, Edna Amaral, dances to the tune of the KHS band.

Coach Widacki spits in disgust.

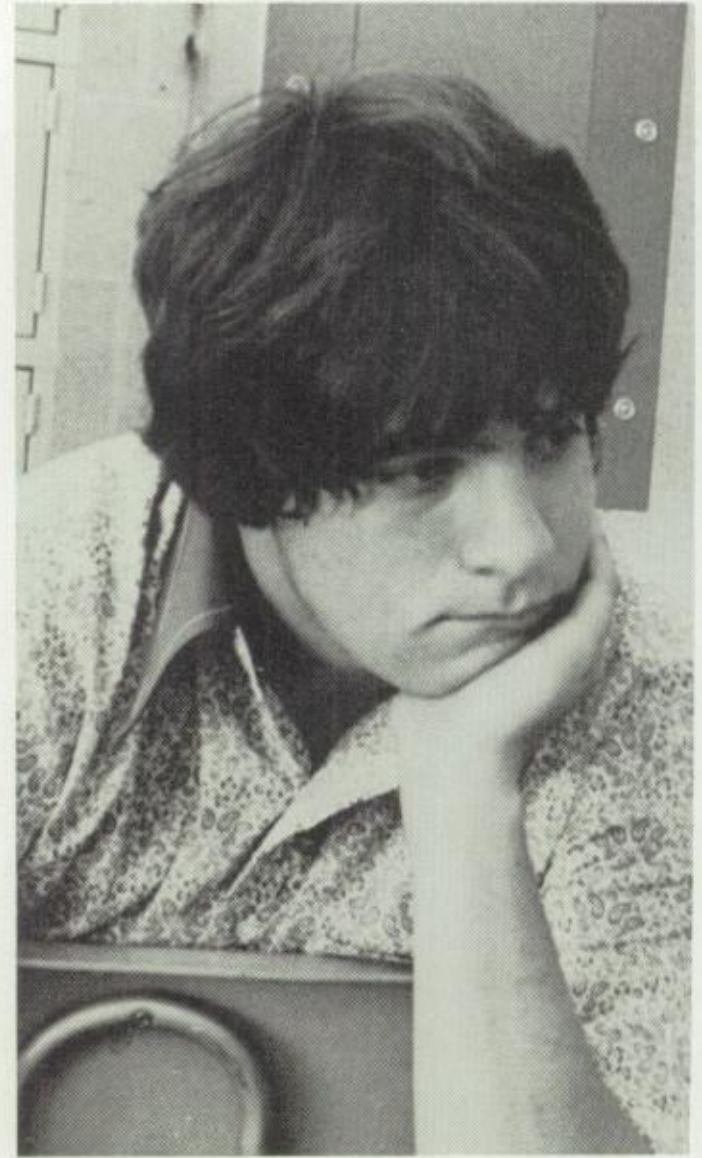

Toni Zavoina, Killeen's Miss Flame of '73-'74, holds onto her hat as the Fire Prevention Parade gets underway.

Killeen students brought the use of hats into play this year with many purposes in mind. The hats ranged from protective gear such as football or motorcycle helmets, to hats meant for display purposes only, such as Kangarette hats, ROTC hats and Kangaroo ears. Some of the headgear served to keep out the winter wind while others identified students and teachers as to their posts and duties throughout the school year.

ROOS FACE UP TO QUARTER SYSTEM

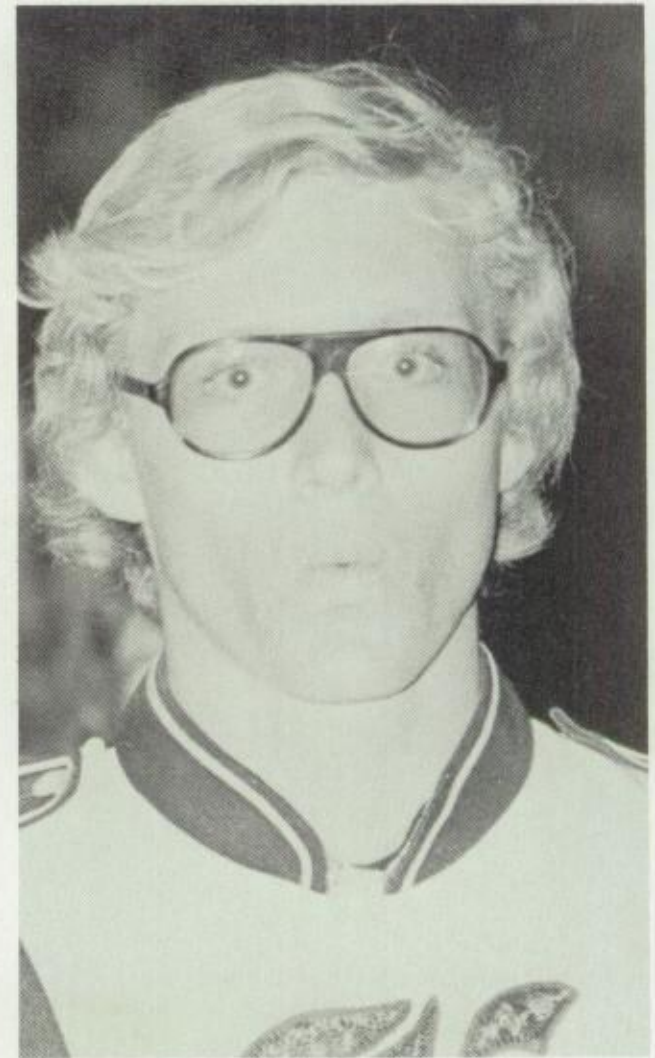

Junior Janet Clark, reflects on the fun of seeing old friends again.

Richard Sepulvado waits for lunch to come.

Papo Rivera and Mike Deorsom express their feelings as time runs out for the Roos in their season opener.

Kevin Mercier whistles a happy tune.

Mike Wilkins and Patina Bratton exchange blows during choir initiation.

Smiling, laughing, sighing, and crying faces were seen in the halls of KHS this year. Many people showed signs of boredom or plain disgust while others showed hope, surprise, and happiness as a result of new school activities. Fascinating differences were found in faces that were met as expressions were found to reflect a person's inner feelings.

David Brooster wakes up in order to go to his first period class.

Debbie Morris's face awaits the official's call as a penalty flag is thrown.

Sophomore students anticipate the bedlam of their first High School Cake Auction.

Terri Parker, Mr. Tuck Blythe, and Barbara Rush count pennies in preparation for the sale of Rodney Chilton's cake.

Members of the Stage Band entertain the masses before, during, and after the activities.

MONEY MOUNTS AS BUYERS BID

Bill Alford, Auctioneer, takes a bid from a junior for Greg Gibbons' cake.

With the football season ended, KHS students gathered in the stands of the gym to participate in the Annual Cake Auction. Varsity players and managers brought in cakes baked by themselves with an aid from the fairer sex. The baked goods were then displayed before the student body allowing groups and individuals, that had collected enough money, to bid on the best looking or most wanted cake. Auctioning off the pastries to the students was Mr. Bill Alford. A three year veteran at the affair, Mr. Alford began the ceremonies by selling the manager's cake and continued to take the bids on others for 45 minutes. The KHS stage band then entertained with a number of musical renditions while the auctioneer took a break, and the students paid for cakes that they had bought. Following this break in activities, Jan Wade, representing the Student Council, awarded Mr. Alford a Kangaroo windbreaker for services rendered at the past three cake auctions. The sales then resumed and a total of $925.89 was collected, with $231.47 allotted to the football team, and $694.42 to the Student Council, who sponsored the activities.

Money-hungry letterman beg from friends in an attempt to buy the team cake.

HOMECOMING HOPS TO A NEW TUNE

Candidates for Miss Roo quietly await the start of pre-game activities.

Terri Parker and Sammy Gonzales anticipate the Miss Roo ceremony.

Escorted by Ronnie McCann, Edna Amaral expresses her hopes for the Miss Roo crown.

Carl Nichols steadies Brenda Smith as she is named Miss Roo of 1973.

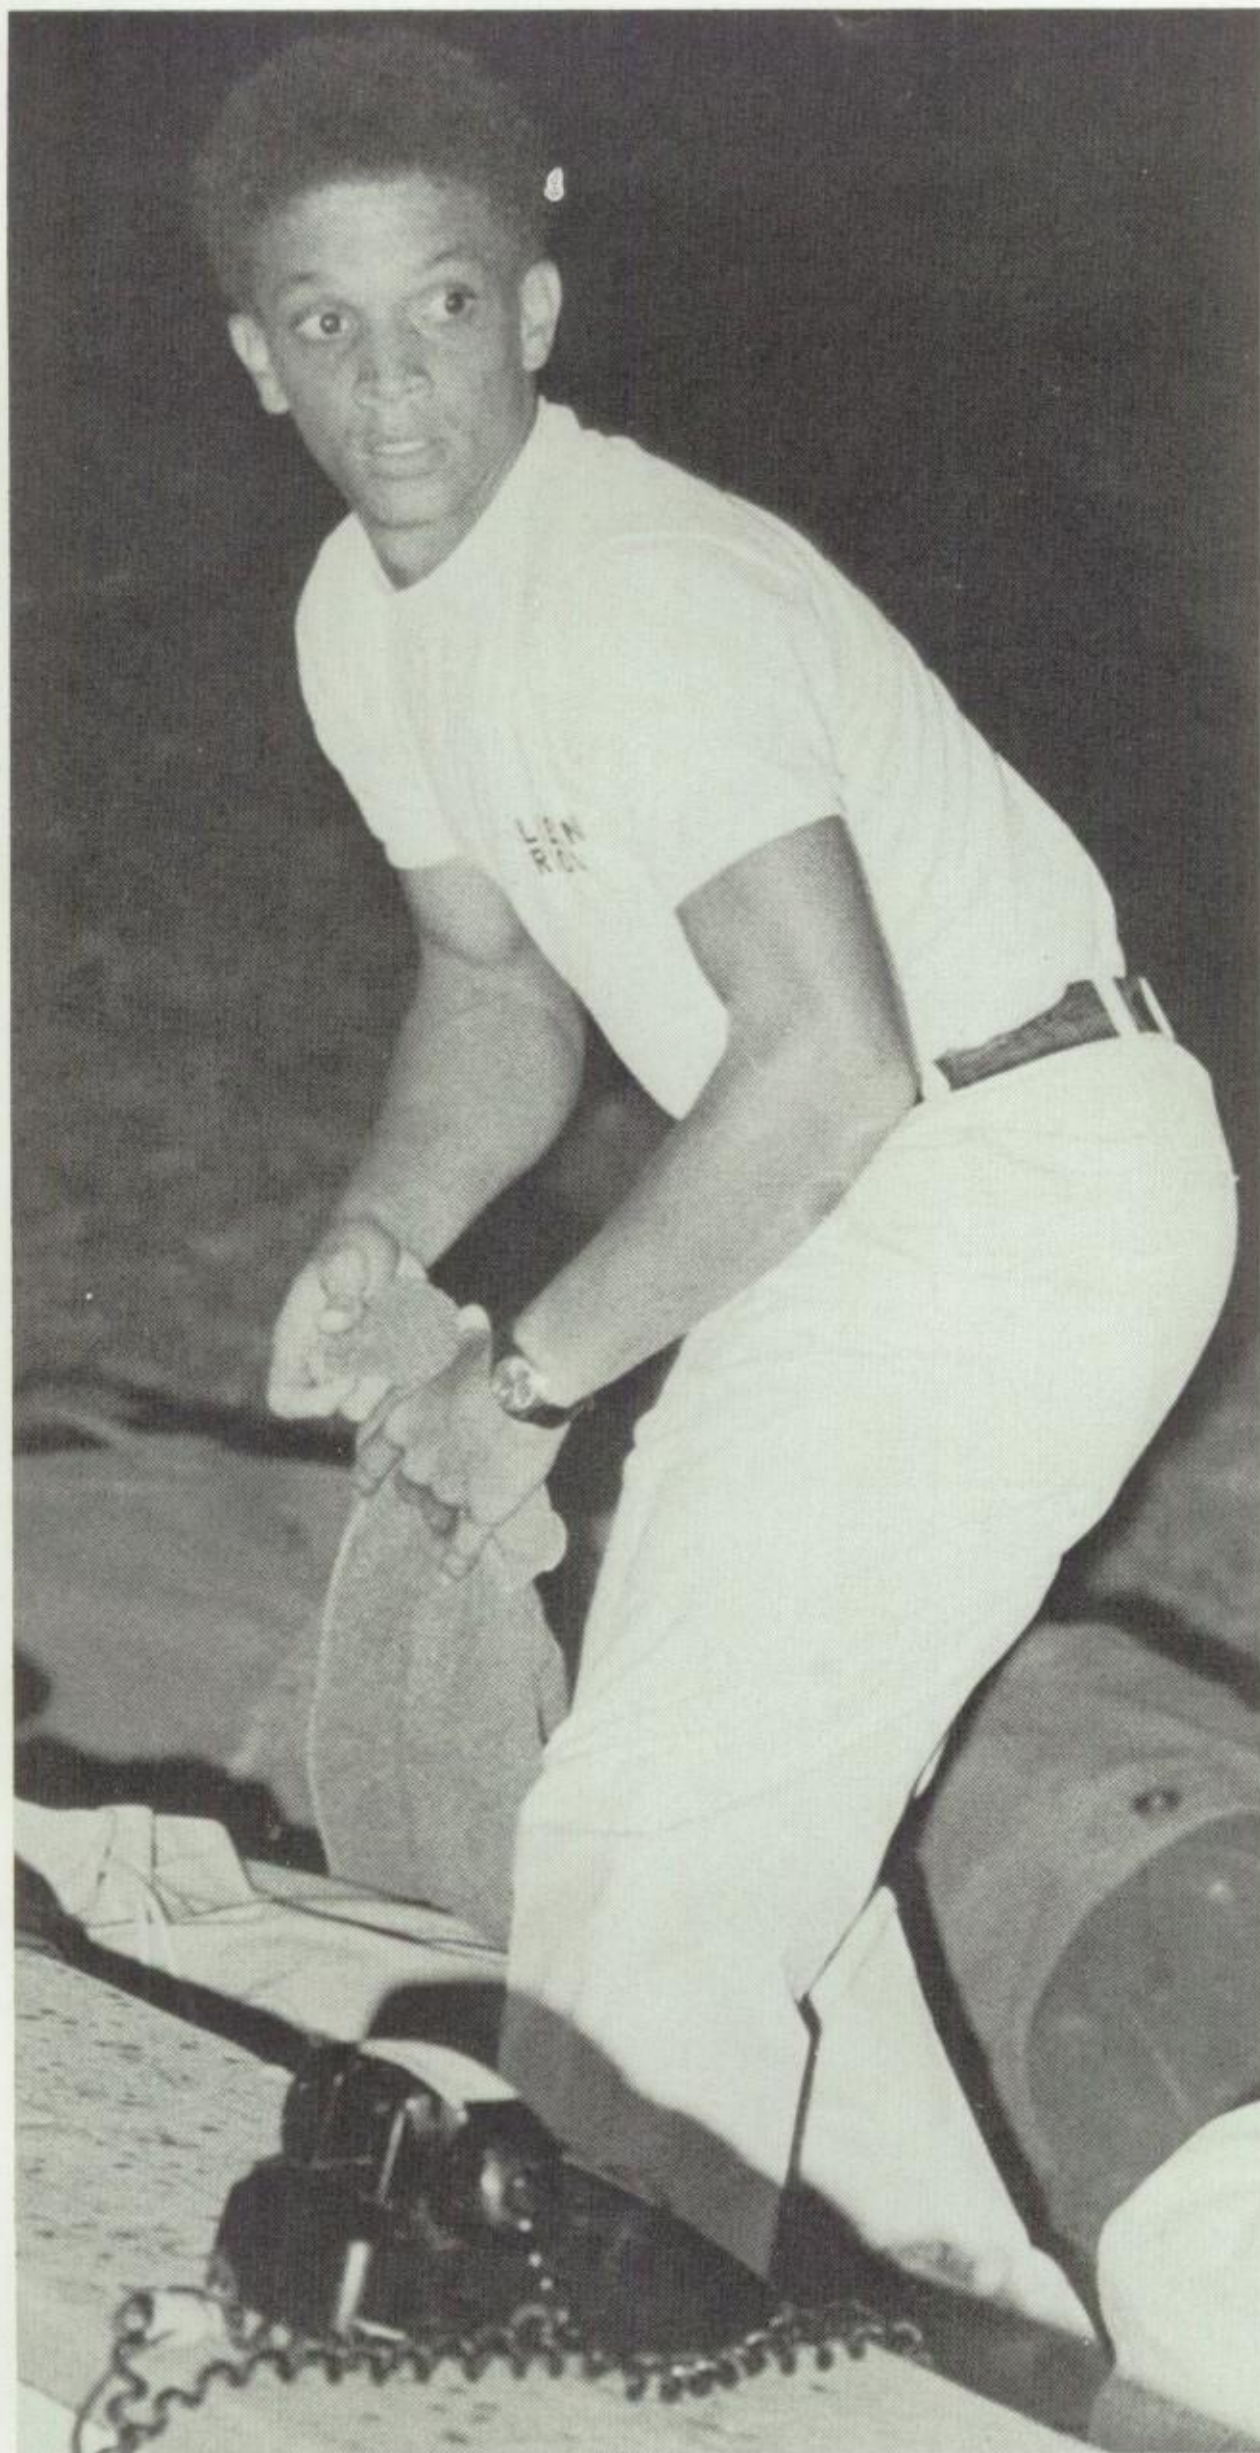

Homecoming '73 brought new activities to KHS that included a "Homecoming Week", with Killeen High Student Council members serving as D.J.'s on KIXS Radio Station. Students represented school organizations and explained the goals they hoped to achieve this year. The D.J.'s announced the upcoming activities for the week in an attempt to raise school spirit for the Homecoming game at the end of the week.

Candidates for Miss Roo this year were voted upon by the student body and three of the 33 nominees were able to compete again in the runoff elections held that Wednesday. Runoff ballots were voided when it was reported that ballot boxes had been tampered with. The votes were not counted and the election was reheld. The title of Miss Roo was finally awarded to Brenda Smith while the runners-up were Terry Parker and Edna Amaral.

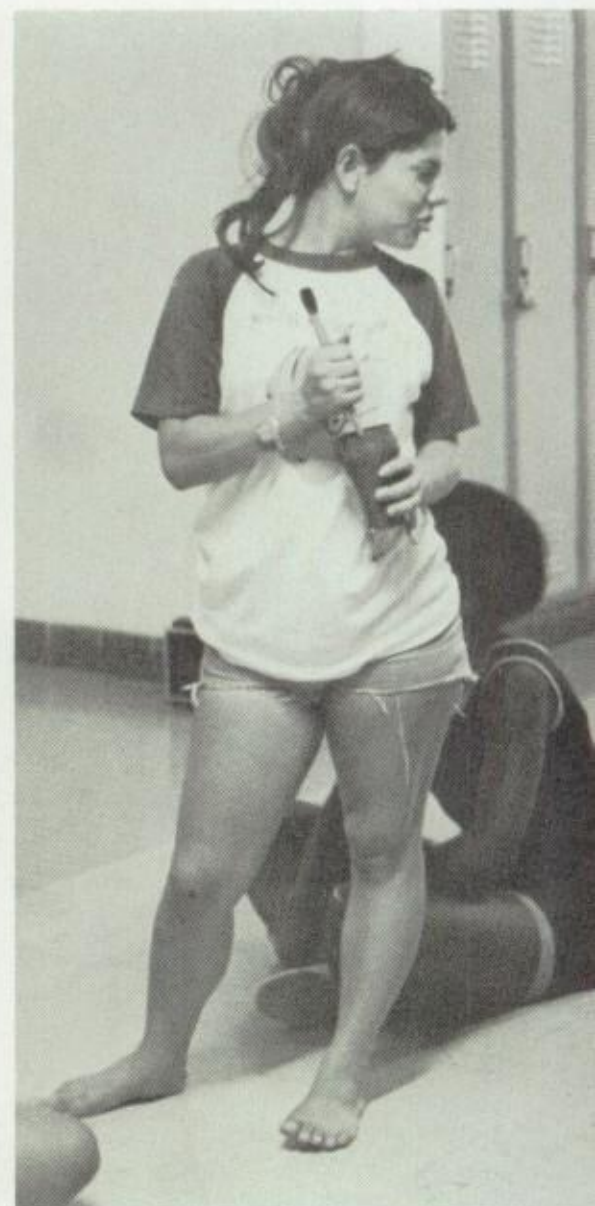

The Homecoming dance this year was different in that it was held the day after the Homecoming, and non-school members were allowed to attend. The dance was geared to the exes in that it was a sock-hop. Exes as well as current students hopped to the tune of the rock band, "Hydra," and Student Council President, Lois Moore, was pleased with the success of the new venture.

The crowning touch came when Killeen High School Principal, Mr. Robert McMinn, placed the crown on Brenda Smith's head.

Rudy Boone, manager of the Roo football team, stops to watch an important play.

Richard Sandage helps Kanga, Edna Amaral and cheerleader, Terri Parker, in painting the intersection floor.

ROLES AND GOALS VARY AT KHS

Students this year participated in many extracurricular activities which included a wide variety of work from the painting of cars, floors, and windows, to the building of courtyard sidewalks. A great deal was accomplished by student workers whether their work had to do with building spirit or with building permanent structures for student use. The students' roles and their goals at Killeen High school often were varied, unique, and sometimes just unknown.

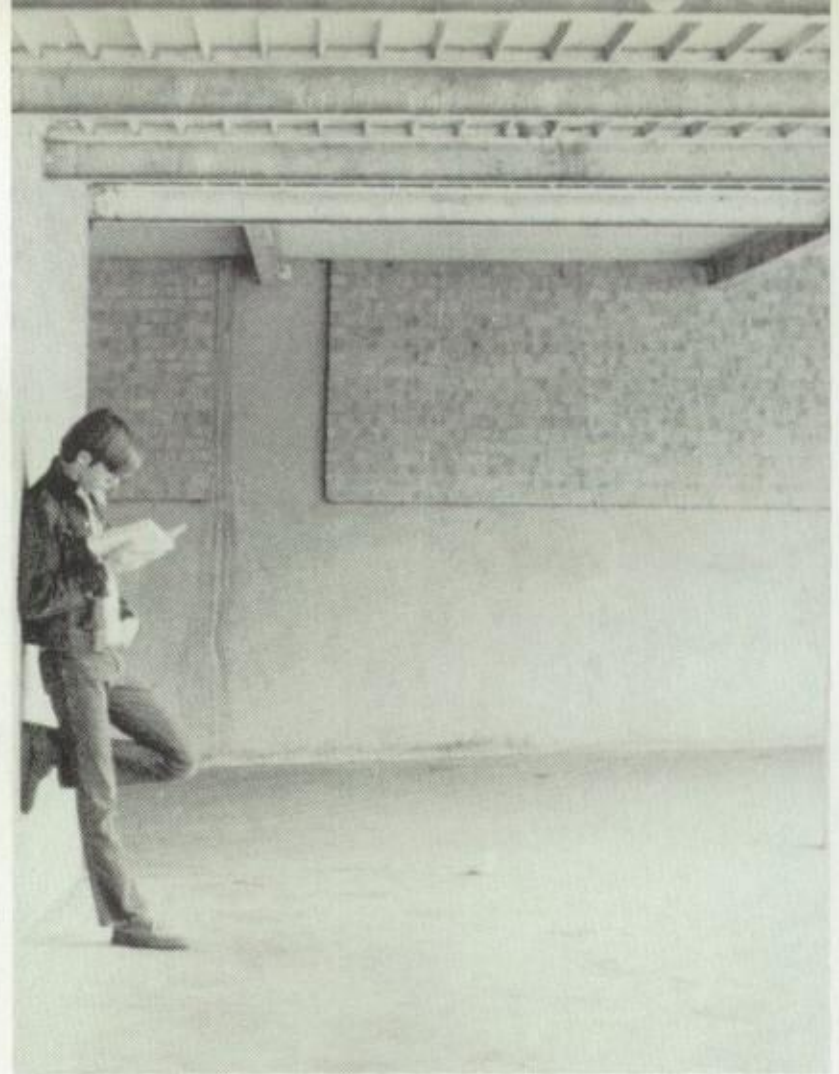

Kangarettes provide entertainment during an afternoon pep rally.

Joaquin Perez and Russell Byers construct a sidewalk in the band-choir courtyard.

An unidentified student carries a soon to be burned burden to the bonfire pile.

Some students felt homework to be more important than the bonfire.

Karen Knapp and Randy Berry help the Sophomore class in the Spirit Contest by bringing collected debris to the bonfire pile.

OPERATION HELPING HAND

KHS students participated this year in a Fort Hood sponsored city-wide cleanup campaign. While the military was responsible for the cleaning up of Killeen, students volunteered their services during third period to pick up litter on the campus. All garbage collected was to be deposited on the bonfire as classes competed in a spirit contest. The whole project started with students collecting only trash and paper, but ended up having crates, dead trees, and even telephone poles brought in by various sources.

While students were not required to clean up the campus, most of them helped in collecting, transporting, and piling trash. Collecting more garbage for the bonfire than any other, the senior class was named the winner of the spirit contest. The result of the school's group effort was a heap of debris more than 25 feet high, and an entirely clean campus.

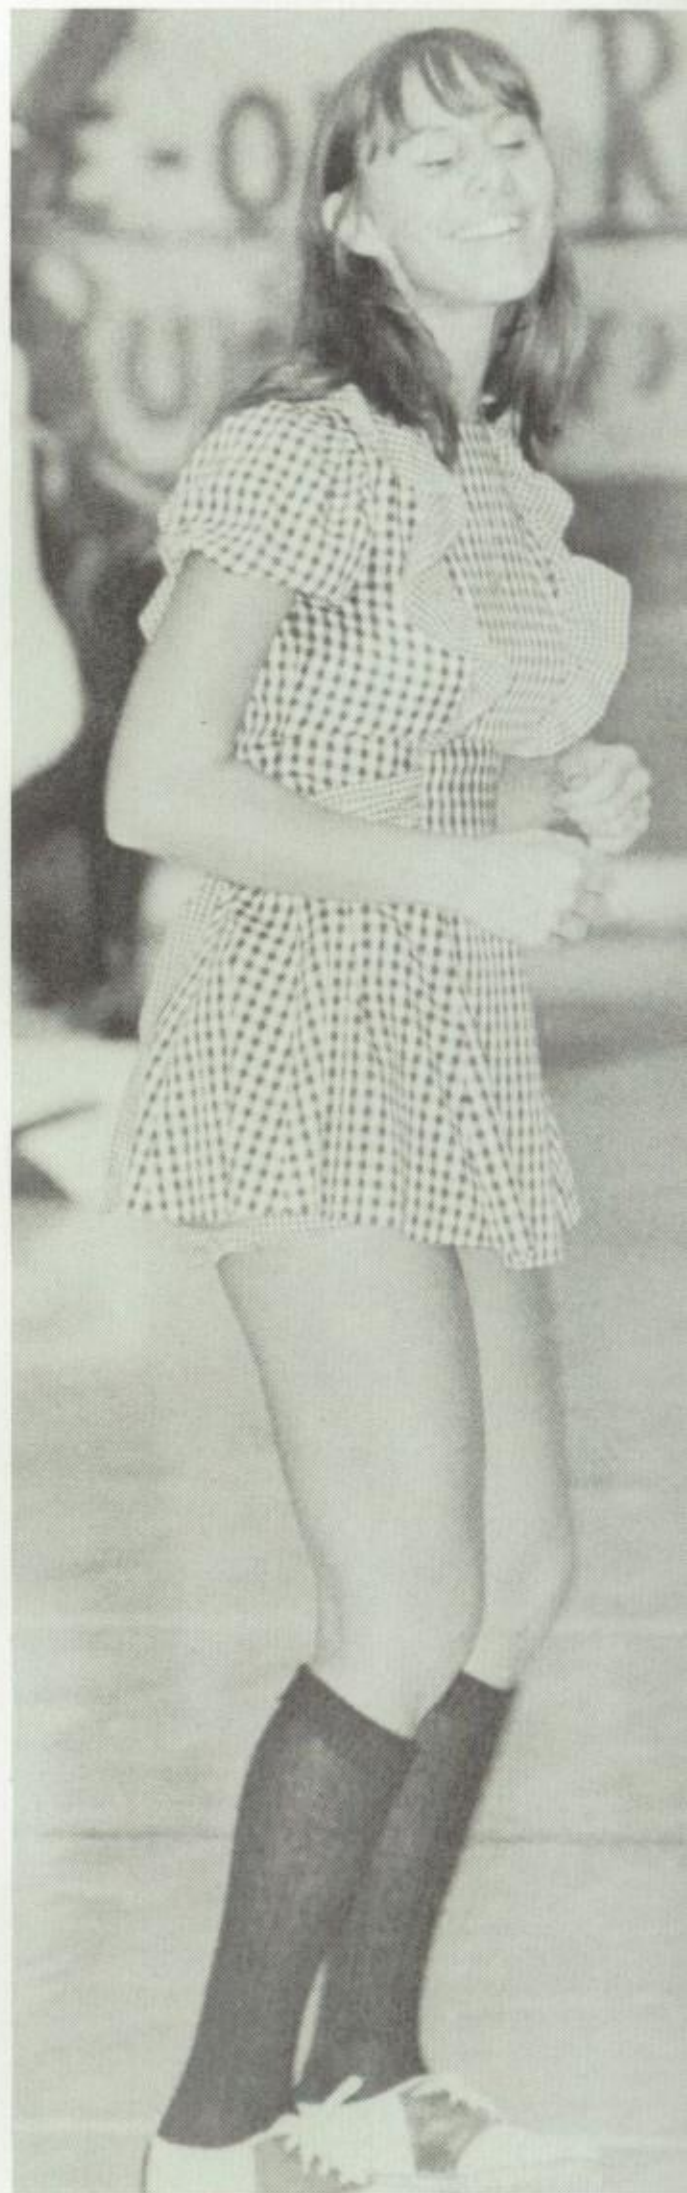

On Thursday, at 7:30, KHS litter went up in flames at the lighting of the "Beat Temple" bonfire.

A student finds that in the autumn months, not even sandals provide enough comfort for hot, tired feet.

Leonard McCullough practices a series of leaps for his part in the Senior play.

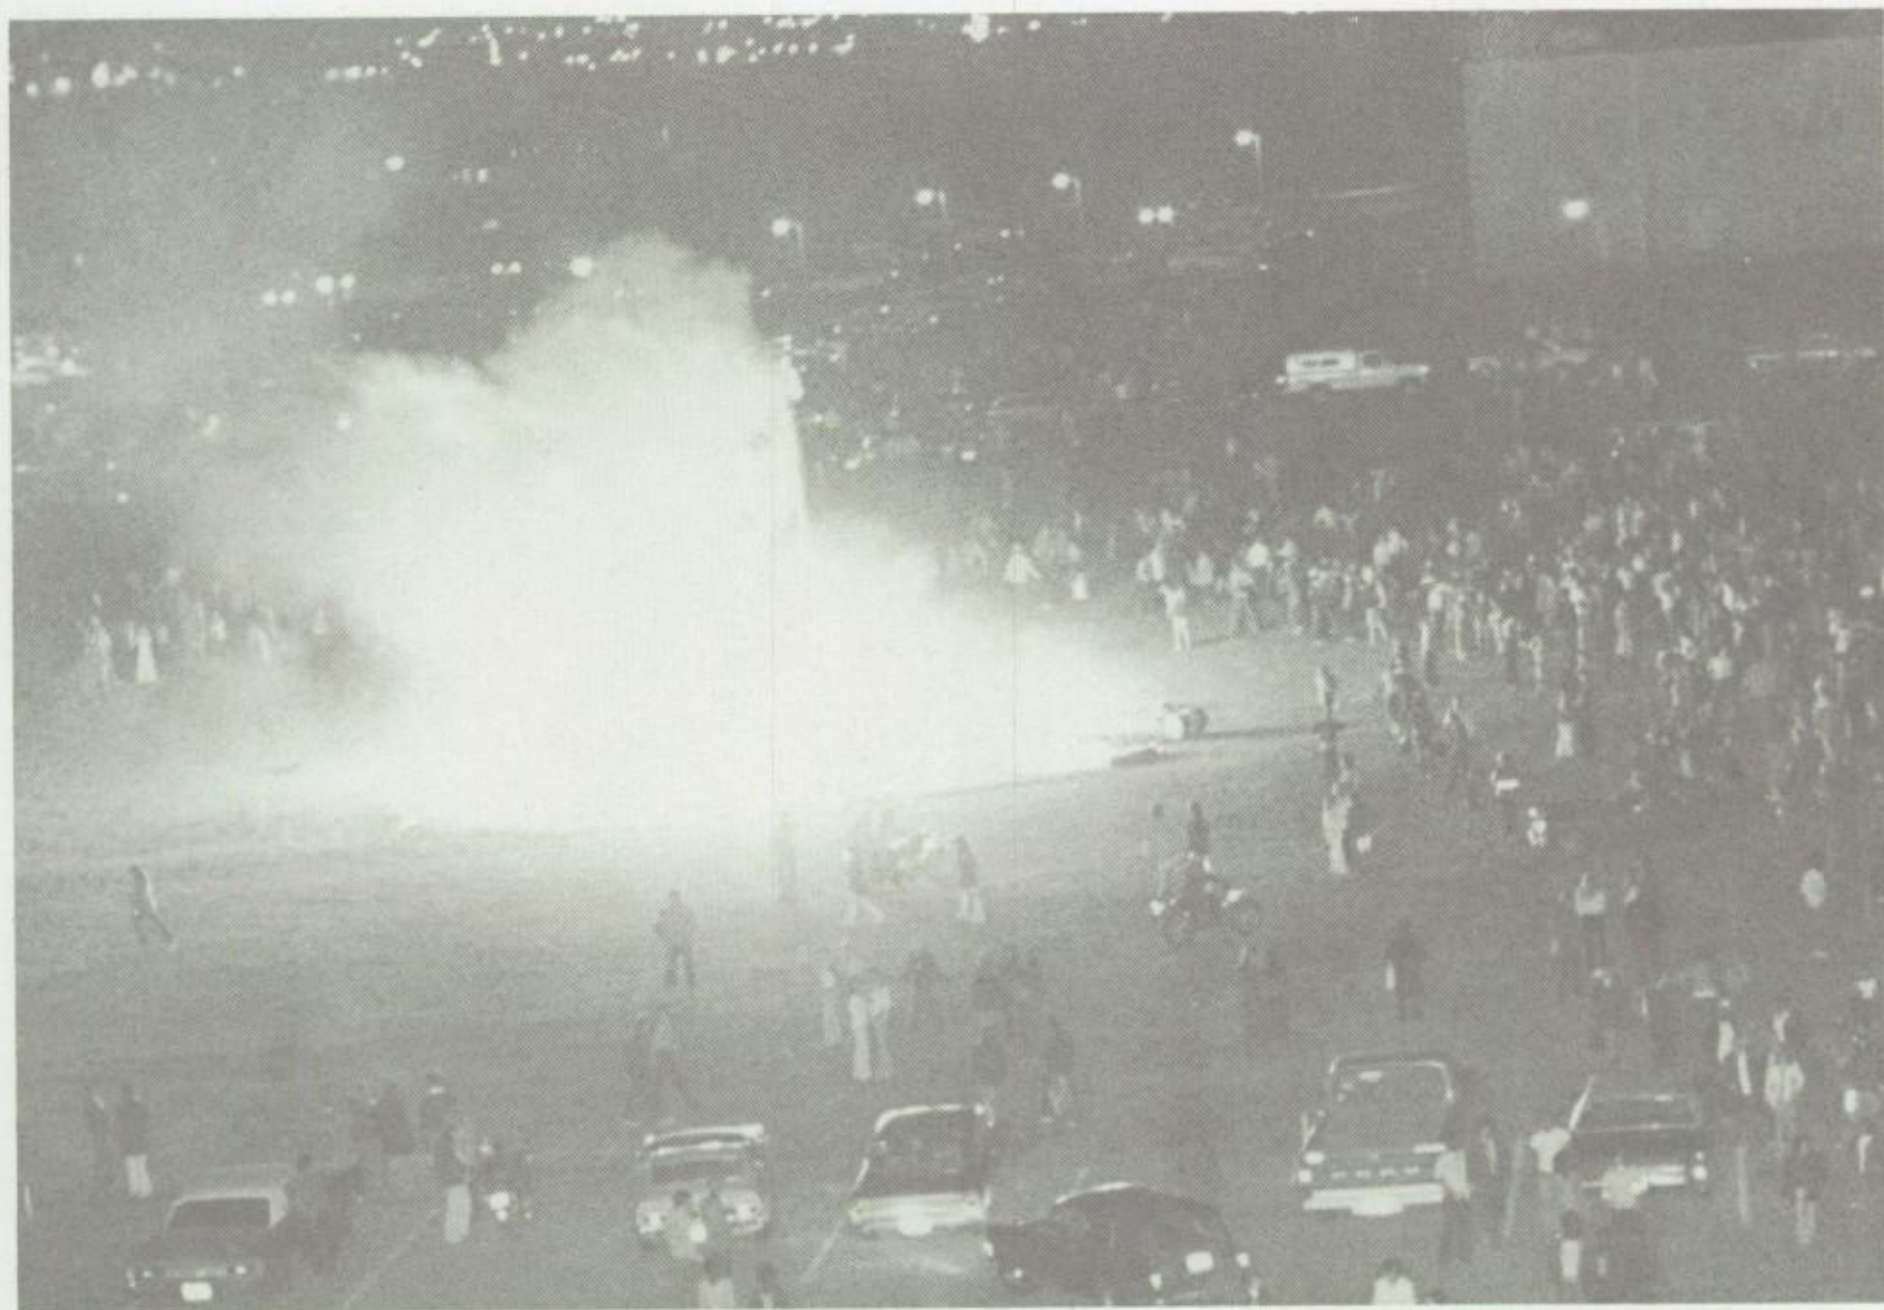

Debbie Schulze demonstrates a bit of nostalgia as she and the other cheerleaders do the Boogie-Woogie.

VARIETY—SPICE OF ROO LIFE

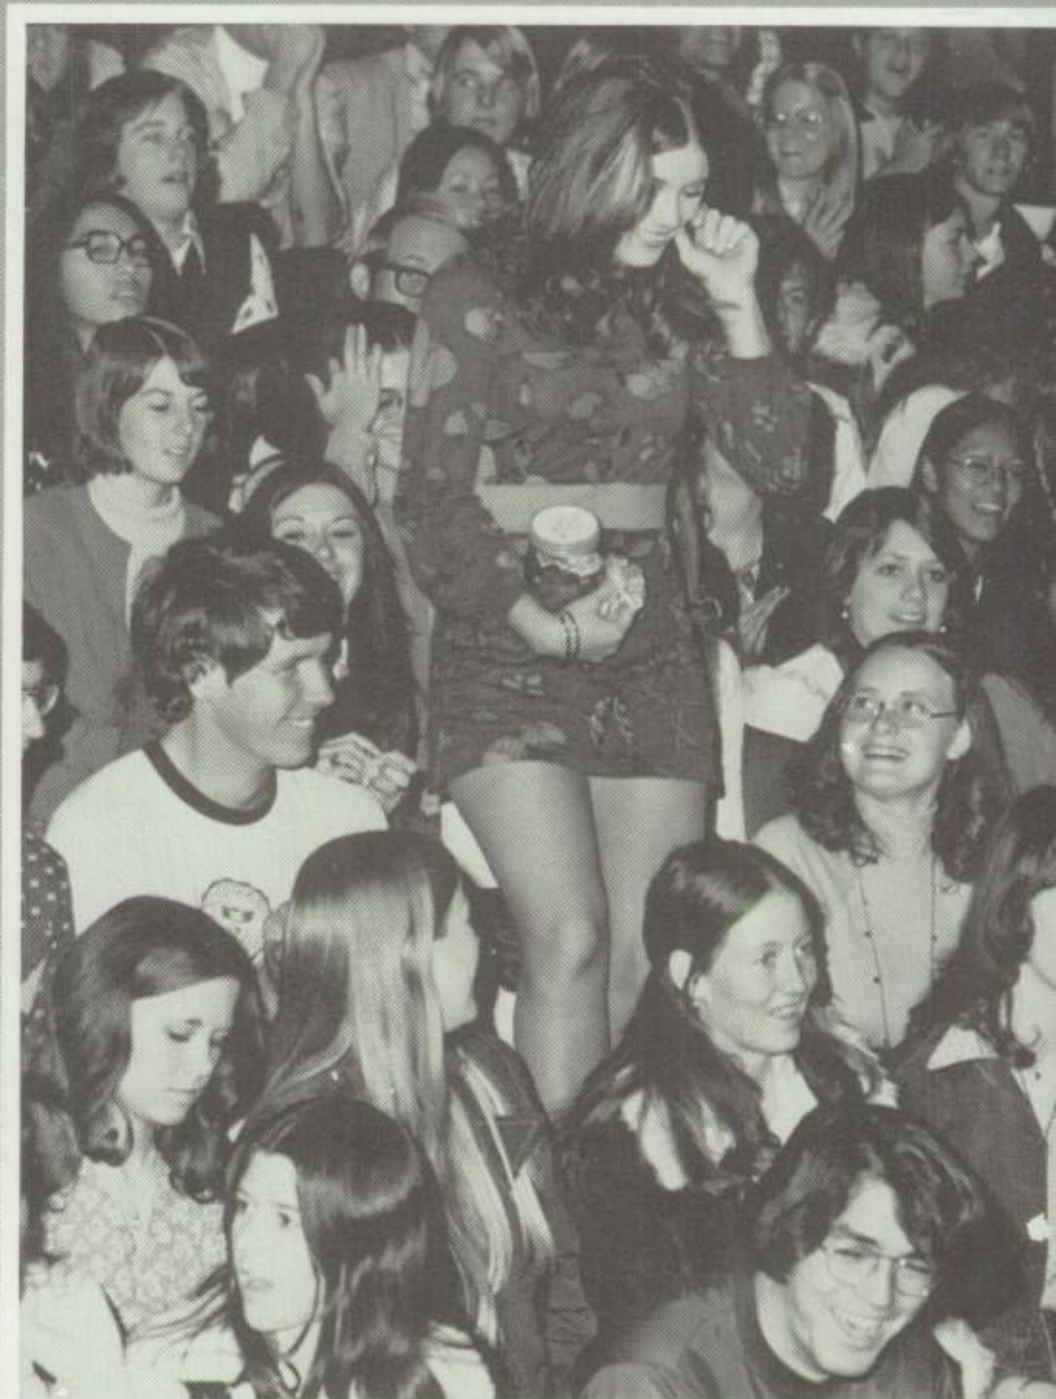

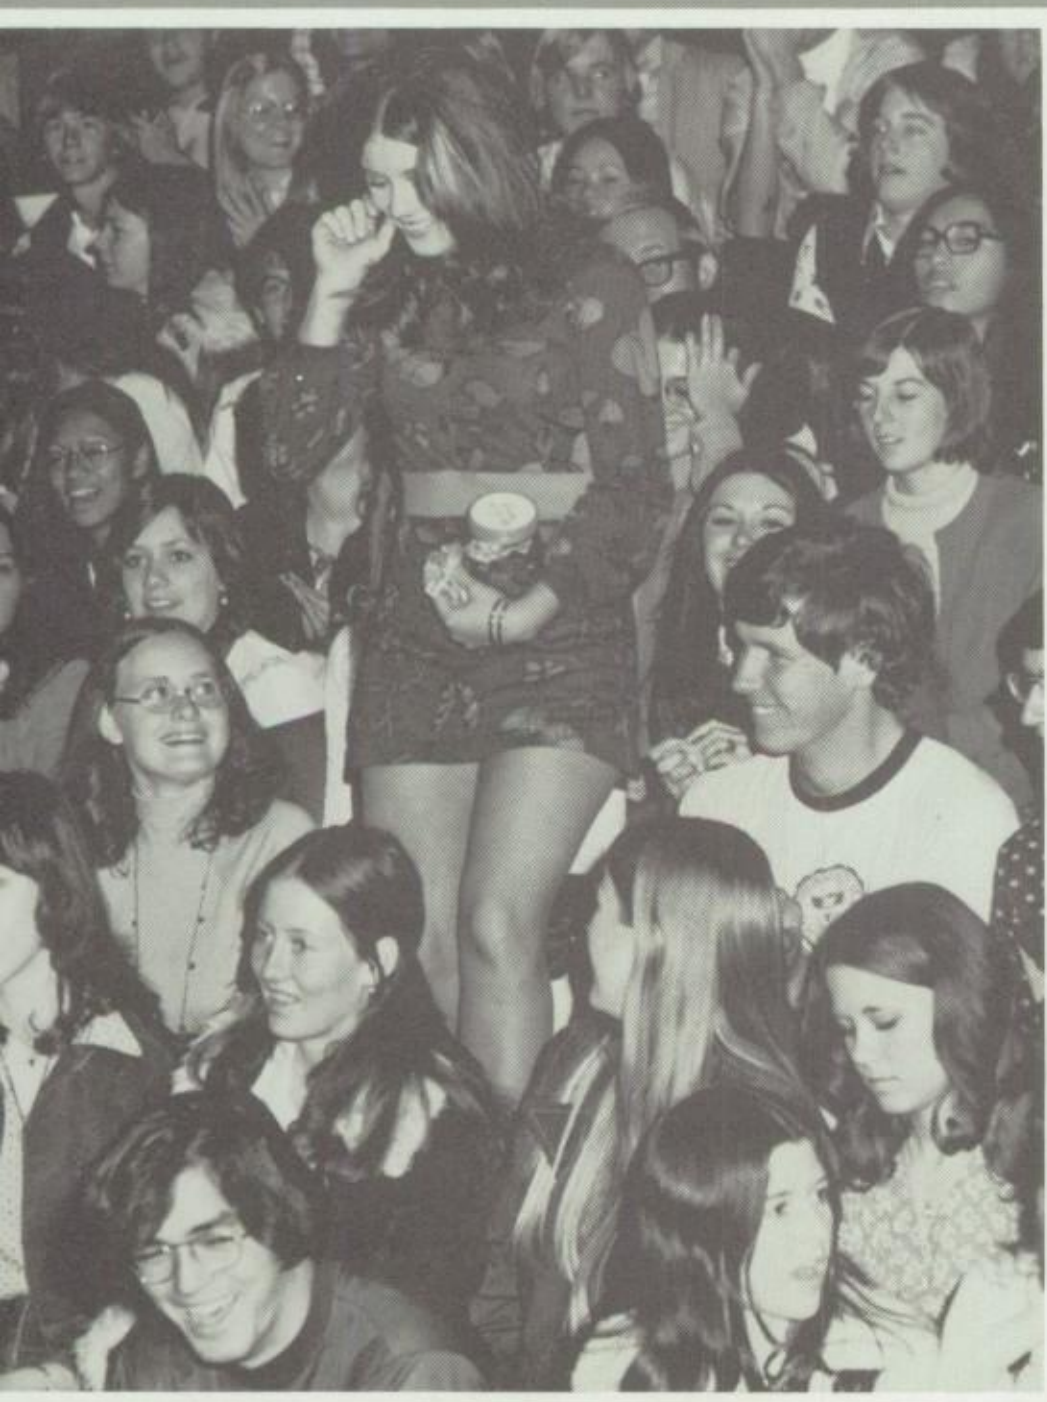

Melinda Dawson and Debbie Beauchamp show their spirit at an afternoon pep rally.

The 1974 school year was one of variety, with students jumping from one project to another. Having the year divided into quarters allowed individuals to change courses and teachers, and brought to the school a new combination of activities unrelated to one another. With the quick change of weather, sports fans participated in football, during the fall; basketball, in the winter; and powderpuff football, tennis, track, and baseball throughout the spring. Organizations participated in the UIL speech tournament in Waco, and then brought the District contest home to the K.H.S. campus. Other activities for the year ranged from the annual tricycle race to the UIL band contests. Whether sophomore, junior, or senior, almost every student in KHS participated in one way or another during the year.

Students fan out to their cars as the last flames of a once brilliant bonfire flicker out.

SENIORS LOOK TOWARD FUTURE

Any senior found to have ample credits to be able to graduate by the end of the first quarter, were able to do so. Forty seniors found they fit these requirements. These students were able to marry, get a good job, go to college, or loaf, earlier than others. At the end of the second quarter, fifty-seven seniors were turned out into the wide world. But whether they stayed in school until the end, or graduated early, it makes no difference. They all recall the same happenings around KHS.

They began early in the year when KHS began the quarter system and the football season. Later, in the fall, the homecoming dance, the ability to vote for graduation invitations, and the senior play "Dark Of The Moon" all became memorable parts of the third and final year. Later in the spring as the future came nearer and nearer, their thoughts turned to the birth of a new dawn. The year was climaxed with the "final walk" across the stage in Kangaroo field to receive diplomas.

SENIORS PRESENT 'DARK OF THE MOON'

Townpeople. Seated are Debbie Basham, Mike Wall, And Ray Hendren, Standing are Ann Delley, Preston Mitchell, Gary Bingham, Charlotte Mikeska and Doug Davis.

Mr. Hanneman demonstrates to the other cast members, the art of lifting a box that looks heavy, but isn't.

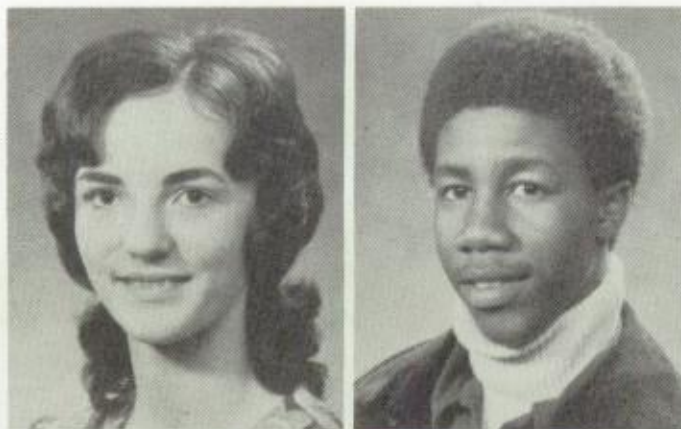

The 1974 Seniors presented the play "Dark Of The Moon" on October 29 and 30. The scene takes place in the late 1800's and early 1900's. In the town of Buck Creek, located in the Smokey Mountains, a witch falls in love with a human and the townspeople are against the marriage. This is when the trouble begins. The scenery for the play is a mixture of the real world and of the fantasy world. The costumes are very "earthy" and they reflected the primitive quality of the dress in the 1900's. Music for the play was out from Bernstiens' "The Mask."

Preacher Haggler (Kevin Mercier) performs the wedding ceremony for John Human (Charles Gibson) and Barbara Allen (Julie Kerns).

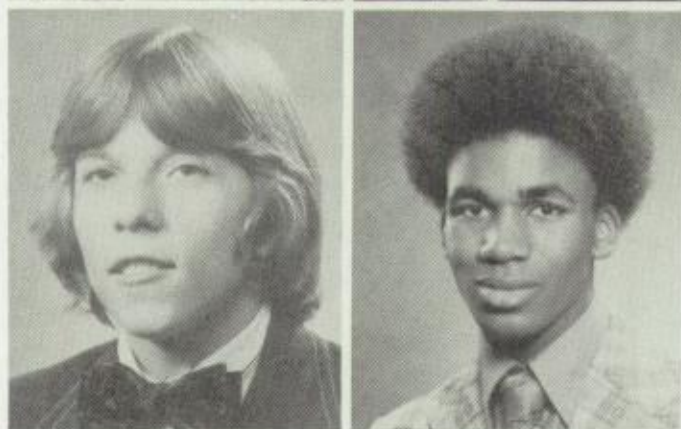

Preacher Haggler explains to the Allens (Gerald Skidmore and Ray Ann Emerich) a solution to their problems while Mrs. Haggler (Margaret Burdett) looks on.

JUNIORS ADD NEW DIMENSIONS

Approximately 788 Juniors were ready for this year of changes. The major change was from semester to quarter systems. In the first quarter, the students were excited about what teachers they had received and which friends were in their classes. For those who needed schedule changes, they found long lines waiting at the guidance center. For those who had legitimate changes, they got them, others with less plausible ones did not. As the third and final quarter came, the students and counselors had become accustomed to changes of schedule, teachers, and classes. Breaking the usual pattern, this year's Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 18. Often the year grew long and frustrating, but the Juniors who were led by fellow Juniors who were promising better things to come.

Reporter:
BARRY JOYNER

The 1973-74 school year was introduced to the Sophomores at orientation by drama students portraying student life, based on the KHS Handbook. Chants were taught by the varsity cheerleaders and singing of the Alma Mater was led by Choir students. A tour of KHS was then held.

After school was underway, each Sophomore English class was visited by Sophomore Counselor Mrs. Iona Ross. Credits and the new quarter system were explained to questioning Sophomores.

The Quarter system posed no major problems to the Sophomores as they had to adjust to an unfamiliar building, new teachers, and schedules.

YEAR OF REBUILDING

Glen Cunningham, Jeff Reding and Larry Taylor prepare to give their ideas of the game at one of the pep rallies.

KANGAROOS OPEN SEASON

The 1973 season was to be a rebuilding year for the Killeen Kangaroos District 15AAAA champions, but what was expected to be a lesser year for the Roos turned out to be a surprisingly successful season. After losing their opener to highly rated Seguin, the Roos bounced back to beat McArthur (Irving). They ended their non-district schedule with a 6-0 loss to Abilene Cooper. Bryan Vikings who went on to win the district crown slipped by the Roos 7-0 in a rainy, district opener at Kyle Field. It was smooth sailing for the Roos through the next five district games. With Richfield, University, Cleburne, Corsicana and Waco High falling victim to a rejuvenated Roo squad, long-time district foe Temple edged the Roos 14-0 to end the season with Killeen holding a 5-2 district record. This was enough for third place in the district, making season record 6-4. Making all-district for the Roos were John Eubanks, Mark Galligan, Gifford Small and Nate Moore.

WITH STATE-RANKED TEAMS

Quarterback Glen Cunningham runs around right end for a sizeable gain.

1973-74 Kangaroo Schedule

Opponent	Score (Killeen-Opp)	Place	Date
Seguin	0-9	T	Sept. 7
MacArthur (Irving)	21-7	H	Sept. 14
Cooper (Abilene)	0-6	T	Sept. 21
Bryan	0-7	T	Oct. 5
Richfield (Waco)	24-0	H	Oct. 12
University (Waco)	40-14	T	Oct. 19
Cleburne	20-18	H	Oct. 26
Corsicana	8-6	T	Nov. 2
Waco	20-6	H	Nov. 9
Temple	0-14	T	Nov. 16

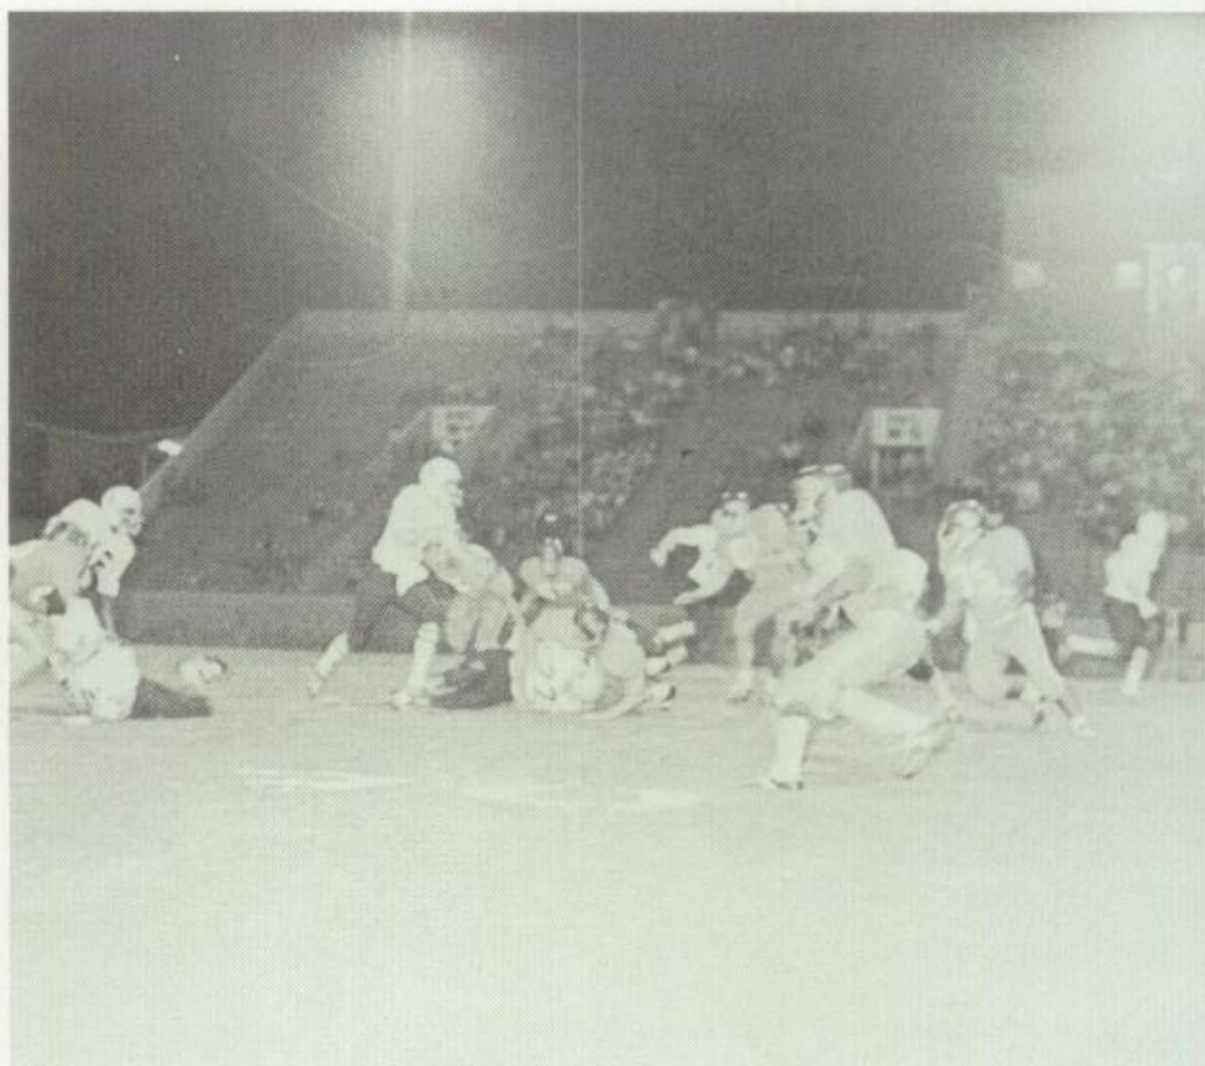

In Killeen's meeting with non-district foes, the Kangaroos came out on the short end, winning one and losing two. Both losses were by narrow margins; the win was a 21-7 trouncing of the McArthur Eagles. Losses were to fifth ranked Seguin, 9-0, and Abilene Cooper, 6-0.

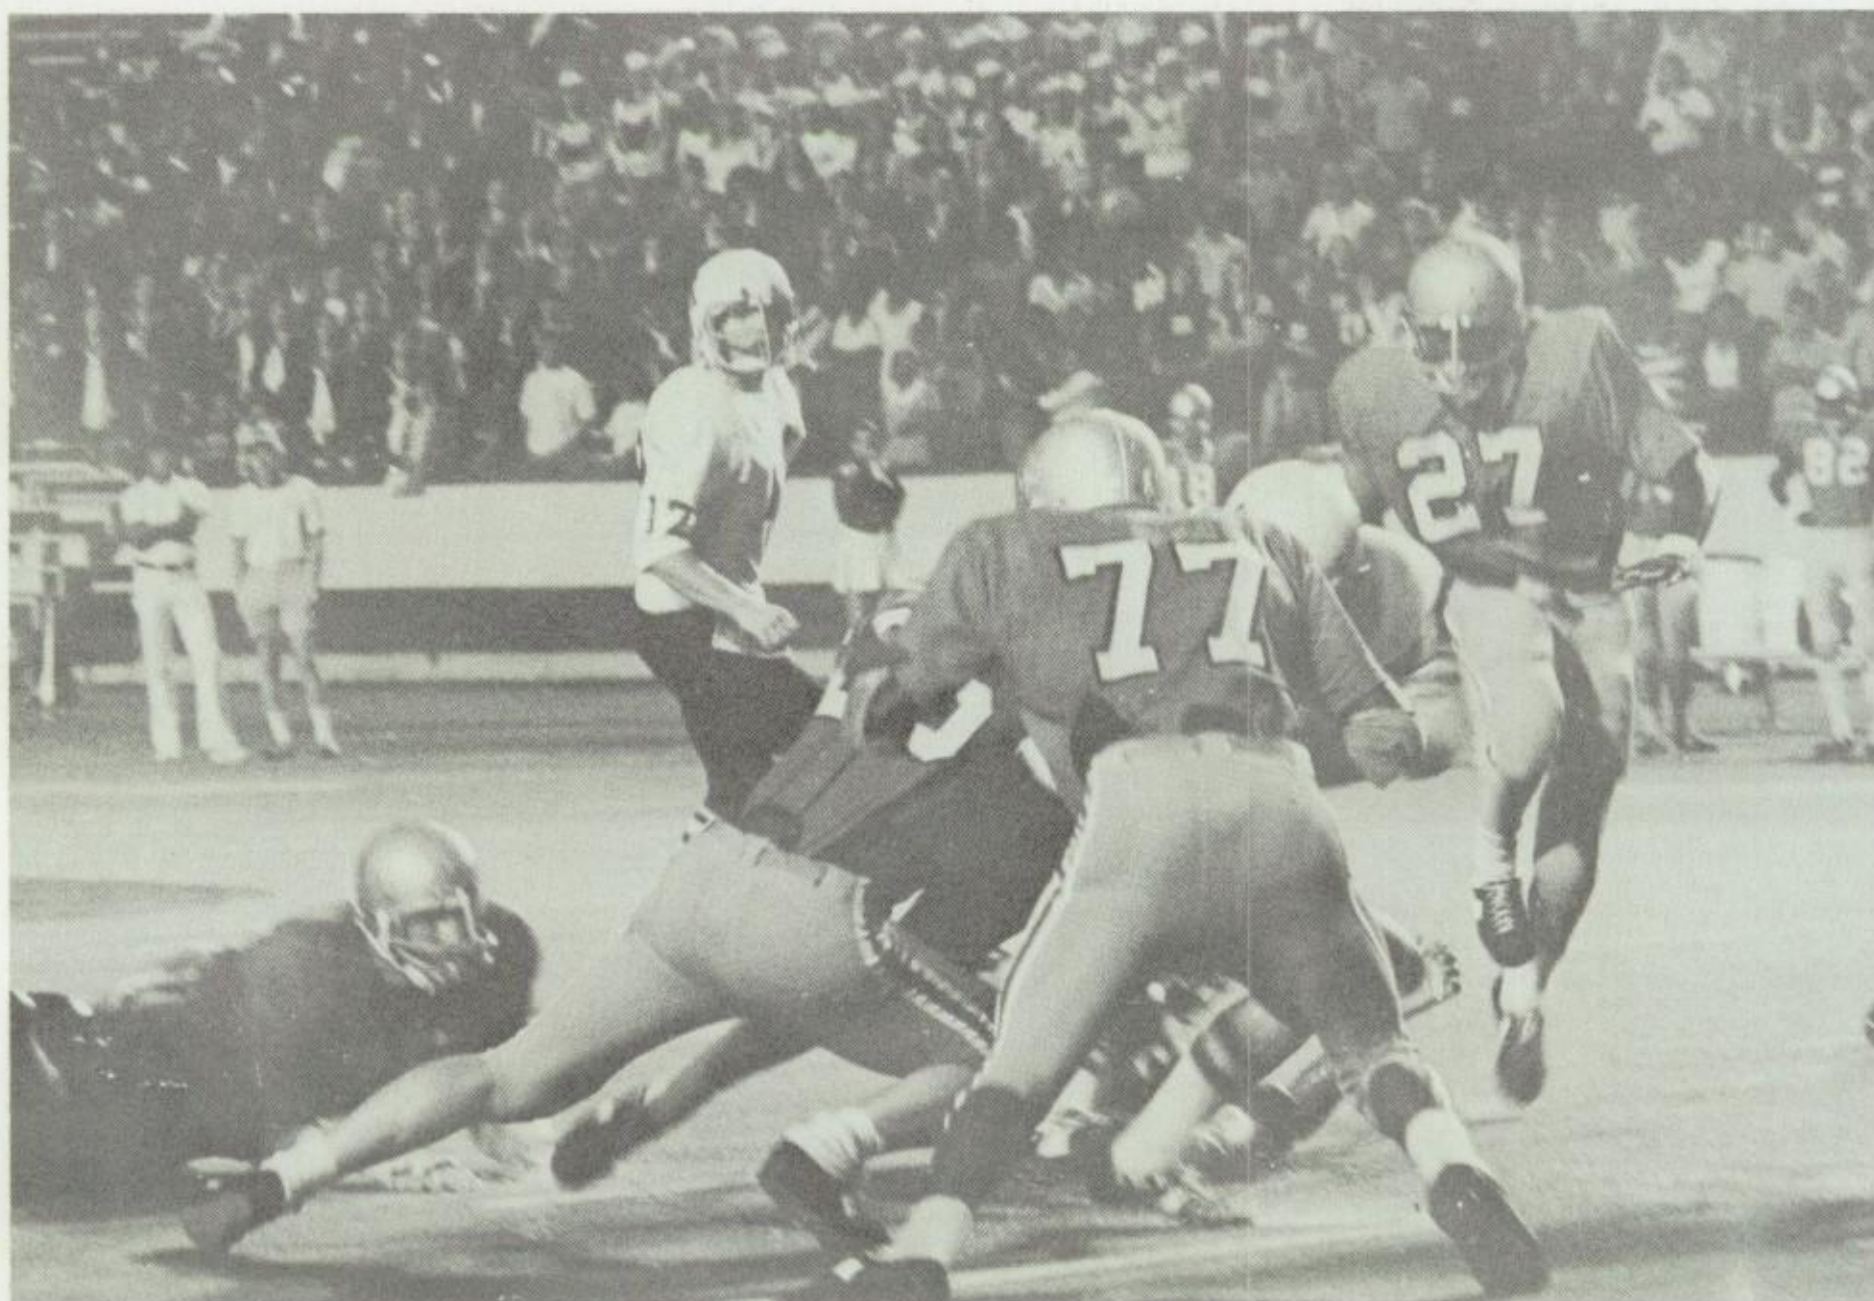

Scott Hines and Robert Vaden follow as Jerome Paul tackles the McArthur quarterback.

ROOS SPLIT WITH

Two of District 15AAAA's top teams led the district schedule for the Killeen Kangaroos. Bryan, hosting Killeen at Texas A & M's Kyle Field, dampened Killeen's district hopes early by a 7-0 score. The Kangaroos bounced back, blanking Richfield 24-0 and kept alive four-year tradition of not losing a district game at Killeen Stadium.

DISTRICT TITLE POSSIBLE

JUNIOR VARSITY AND B-TEAM

ROLL OVER OPPONENTS

Facing stiff competition on the playing field the KHS JV turned in a 6-2 won-loss mark. Killeen started the season the right foot with a crushing shut-out over the Temple Wildcats (Kittens), 39-0. The JV vacuumed up 525 total offensive yards while only having 75 total yards pushed against them by Temple. The Brownwood Cub tilt proved to be a harder game with Killeen making a strong effort only to lose 14-12. In rain the next week, the JV battled Bryan in Killeen only to lose 12-10. The JV's game with Richfield the following week was rained out, snuffing out a chance to even their record at 2-2. Offensive guns for the JV's included running backs Wesley Gilmore, Marvin Smith and Joseph Polk, while defensive stalwarts included Sam Kanouse, Mike Duty and Joey Cabiya. Bo Jackson and Kenneth Smith coached the JV. Coach Sam Carney and Martin Allen's B-Team found their competition sometimes scarce. They had one group that competed against the local junior highs. The B-Team season record was 6-1-2.

Swarming the offense, the Roo defenders halt any gain by the Waco Tigers.

ROOS FINISH SEASON

In the district opener against Bryan, the Roos won by a 70-59 margin, with the Roos shooting a 54%. The Roos were added to the Ram victims losing out 54-52 in overtime. Troy Oliver was high point with 22. University Trojans fell 54-39 with Oliver again high point with 17. At home again, Cleburne was soundly defeated 73-52 with the Roos falling to District Champ Corsicana 86-54. Waco High shot the Roos out of third place with a 75-65 blow. The cagers finished out with a positive note by defeating Temple 57-48.

The K.H.S. Varsity twirlers are bottom row Gwen Wilkerson, Sherrie Ogle and Nancy Wells, and in the top row is Cheryl Kaspersiz, Beverly Luce, Judy Mew, Elizabeth Purser (head twirler), and Ann Havlik.

The Varsity band for the 1973-74 school year, under the direction of David Pennington and assistant directors John Brewer and Carroll Moffett, performed exceedingly well under the pressure of a heavy agenda. Because of daily practices, sectionals, and Tuesday night rehearsals, the band continually gave its audience a good performance. In addition to preparing for football games, the band executed a precision marching demonstration which convinced the judges at UIL marching contest that they deserved superior ratings. Following their production the band received praise from the judges who said "The Killeen High School band is a credit to Texas bands". Other activities ranged from participation in the Fire Prevention, Christmas, and Rodeo parades to bonfires, and pep rallies. At the close of the first quarter the Varsity and JV bands were divided into the Symphonic, Concert, I, II, III, and Cadet bands. These newly formed bands focused on concerts.

Starting the last week in January, the Symphonic band played concerts for the four Junior Highs and with the aid of Concert I and II the Symphonic band performed for the High School. The combined bands produced a Christmas concert Dec. 20, and Spring Festival on May 14. During the year a number of band students participated in various music contests. The contests began with 80 students competing on the District level in Belton. Of those contestants 58 made All-District band. After another performance on January 5 in Temple, 18 students were eliminated leaving 40 band members earning All-Region honors. The Region band members continued competition on January 19 in Hurst. Twelve Roo band members made All-Area band. From this band 2 band members, Mark Johnson and Trean Hyde, earned All-State honors. In the spring, the band held its annual band banquet on April 27. Closing the year the band members spent three days in Corpus Christi.

The K.H.S. band demonstrates a precision marching drill during the Bryan half-time show.

Spirits ran high for the 1973-74 school year because of the efforts put forth by the cheerleaders. The 4 Seniors, 4 Juniors, Kanga, and 4 J.V. cheerleaders followed a rigorous schedule each week. A typical week for the cheerleaders and sponsor began with making signs after school on Monday and hanging them Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday and Thursday were set aside for painting floors and practicing for the pep rally. Each week two large spirit posters were drawn and painted in each intersection. Due to the 8:00 pep rallies, Friday began early and continued into a full day of work consisting of decorating the field house and painting the charter buses for out of town games.

FOR THE MAROON, MAROON, MAROON

After the fire prevention pregame show Smokey is escorted off the field by Kanga and the cheerleaders.

J.V. Cheerleaders for Killeen this year are Bottom Rosa Guiterrez and top Tobi Walker, Rosie Russel, and Linda Roderick.

In addition to their weekly schedule the cheerleaders planned the bonfires and downtown pep rallies, made announcements over the radio, cleaned the trophy cases, prepared for the basketball tournaments and sold K.H.S. shirts. Early in the summer the cheerleaders attended cheerleading school at Sam Houston State. While there they won the superior ribbon five times and the spirit award twice. During basketball season the cheerleaders were there cheering the Roos to victory. Late in the Spring, they helped conduct the elections for the 1974-75 school year. It was a busy but rewarding year. The cheerleading sponsor was Miss Janice Ward.

COUNCIL WORKS FOR STUDENTS' WELFARE

Eddie Safady and David Beauchamp award the representative of Waco High School a friendship plaque at the halftime ceremonies.

Officers for the 73-74 Student Council are: Standing, Cindy Sparks, Corr. Sec.; V-Pres, Eddie Safady: Pres., Lois Moore; Treas., Terri Dickinson; Patsy Hight, Rec. Sec.

KHS Student Council members kept a busy schedule by sponsoring a number of extra-curricular activities throughout the year. One of the first major accomplishments of the year was the organization of the Student Advisory Board, which brought issues to the superintendent in an effort to bring the feelings of the student body into the open. Members of the board were Lois Moore, Cindy Feeney, and Sammy Gonzales. To announce homecoming week, council members were allotted airtime on KIXS radio which allowed club representatives time to explain the activities of KHS's organizations. Activities announced included the homecoming "sock hop" dance for current students as well as graduated alumni. The council then sponsored the "Great Cleanup", in which students cleaned the campus by building the Temple bonfire. Tentative projects for the council were the buying of garbage cans for the campus, the construction of sidewalks between the band and choir courtyard, and volunteer work at area nursing homes.

CLUB RESCUES USED PAPER

This year's Ecology Club worked with the Latin club in cleaning up the courtyard fountain, and planting trees to help beautify the KHS campus. They placed boxes in classrooms, so that students could get rid of old paper, and have it recycled in Fort Hood's ecological recycling program. With assistance from Major Richard Sevcik, members took part in the Army sponsored projects, and talked to the Fairway Jr. High ecology club members about the High school organization.

Ecology Club officers are: Al Barton; VP, Karen Kramer; President, Becky Torres; Sec. Treas., Mr. Barton; Sponsor, and Eric Sedberry, Reporter.

SERVICE & LEADERSHIP PRODUCTS OF ROTC

Junior ROTC for KHS was commanded by Col. Robert Zimmerman, SgM Dalton Breaux, and Sgt. Lawrence Lampley. The program consisted of 199 young men developing leadership potential, good citizenship, and general compatability. The four companies were divided by classes which were given instructions in first aid, map reading, weapons training, small unit tactics, and marksmanship. Along with the normal classes many young men joined precision drill and rifle teams. Those that were able to show superior ability became members of the Rangers.

A select group of ROTC cadets represented KHS as Rangers.

The Kangaroo staff began work on the annual in June of 1973 and worked continuously at a week long journalism workshop in San Angelo, Texas. The staffers received the award for the best developed theme for schools of over one thousand students. Coming back to work after the summer, the crew sold advertisements to local merchants in preparation for their first major deadline. They then completed their next deadline of one hundred pages, which involved the culmination of the Activities, Sophomore Assemblage, and Advertising sections. In a final rush staffers worked furiously to complete another one hundred pages, and finished the work on the deadline date.

N.H.S. LARGEST EVER

National Honor Society members under the direction of Mrs. Northen, Mrs. Beauchamp, Mrs. Wood, and Mrs. Voltin started the year by selling spirit ribbons to get students ready for upcoming football games. This was the main fund raising project undertaken by the club. The members then contributed canned goods in an effort to feed a needy family at Thanksgiving. For the yearly service project, NHS bought Italian Cedar trees and planted them in the island between the band and student parking lot. Looking into the treasury, the club then donated a sum to the C. E. Ellison scholarship fund. The next topics of concern for the club were the yearly elections of most likely to succeed boy and girl and the election of teacher of the year. The year was ended with the induction ceremony held on February 7 and the annual student-faculty banquet.

Officers of the National Honor Society are: Ann Wade, Co-historian; Fred Glazener, Vice-President; Deryl Prince, Parliamentarian; Wayne Gordon, President; Peggy Raker, Treasurer; Jan Wade, Co-historian; Honee Clayton, Reporter.

KEY CLUB CLEANS CAMPUS

President John Bressler presides over a business meeting of the Key Club.

The Key Club was kept very busy this year with many projects around campus. They started the year with Operation Helping Hand, a project that combined with the one proposed by Fort Hood. All the trash picked up was added to the Temple bonfire. Overall the project worked out nicely. Members spent time running concession stands at the junior high football games at Rancier Field. The club sponsored the annual Powderpuff football games between the sophomore, junior, and senior girls. This year the underclassmen, always put down by the upper classmen, came out on top. The sophomore powderpuffers coached by Don Dean, Jon Skidmore, John Sublousky, and Mark Cunningham first defeated the juniors, 18-0, and then went on to overcome the seniors, 12-0. The Key Club sold Student Directories, the major fund raising program for the year. Some of the money the members earned was then donated to the C. E. Ellison scholarship fund. The faculty advisors for the club were Mr. Jerry Norris and Mr. Bob Criswell. The Kiwanis advisor was Mr. Joe T. McKelvain.

Members of the Key Club pay their dues to treasurer Bill Farley.

THESPIANS GET INTO THE ACT

Thespian Society members participated in the production of a number of school plays. During their afterschool meetings, they discussed trips to the Dallas Civic and Ima Hogg auditoriums in order to view semi-professional actors in action. They also traveled to Austin to see Mercedes McCambridge in her portrayal of the "Madwoman of Chaillot."

CHOIRS STRIVE FOR PERFECTION

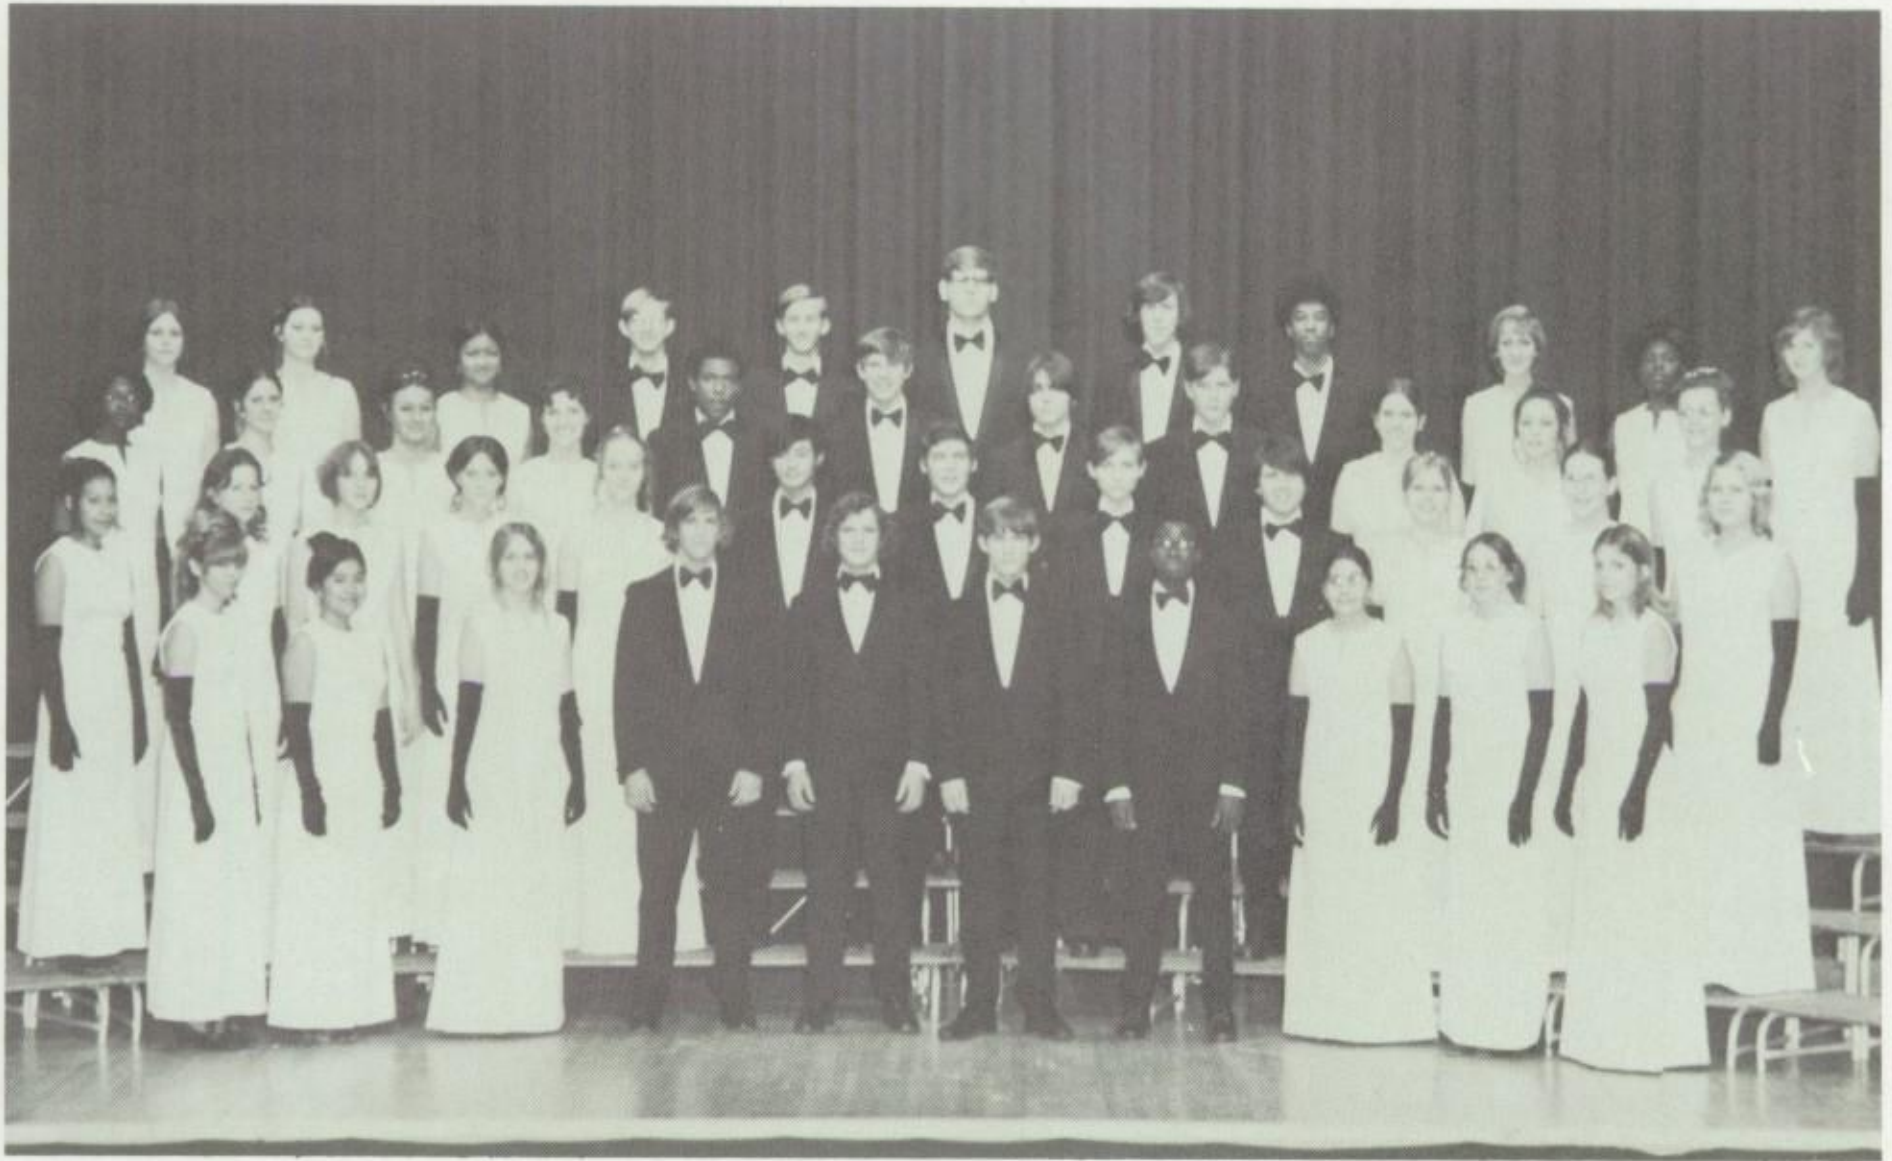

Students interested in music were instructed in voice expression during choir classes. Those wishing to gain a further knowledge of music development, took the music theory course that was offered this year. Members participated in UIL contests and four students were chosen as all-state choir members.

HARD WORK—THE BEST TEACHER

Roo Review, a self-supporting newspaper, was published once a month by the members of the journalism staff. Considered by many as one of the best high school news publications, the journalists managed the paper under situations very similar to those of the business world. The Review staff not only wrote and copy read their own stories but also laid out their pages, made-up headlines, and pasted up their pages. The lessons in business gave them experience as future journalists when they dealt with local businessmen for ad copy and contracts. The book world business sharpened their proficiency as well as the experience of working with fellow journalists right down to the final shelf when 1500 papers came off the press.

BIGGER AND BETTER

This year's Speech and Debate Club had a major membership growth ever last year's organization. Setting their goals high, the members achieved them in various contests, UIL and otherwise. The club met every Thursday morning to discuss the tournaments and to congratulate each other on honors received in competition. The sponsors, Mrs. Meacham and Miss Robinson, played a major part in spurring on the speakers.

DEVOTIONAL CLUB PROMOTES UNITY

Each Monday morning the Devotional Club opened another week of school with a spiritual uplift and prayer over the intercom. Meeting every Wednesday morning before school, the purpose was fellowship with believers and strength to witness to others. They helped provide for a family at Christmas. Local pastors, laymen, and fellow students provided the program throughout the school year. Sometimes just a time of fellowship and singing was held.

Officers are: Standing: Pres. Toni Robinson: Sitting: Sec. Tres. Marilyn Foster; V-Pres. Carol Anderson.

NEWEST UNITED EFFORT ON CAMPUS

United Students sponsors for this year are Mrs. Tomlin and Mrs. Sparks.

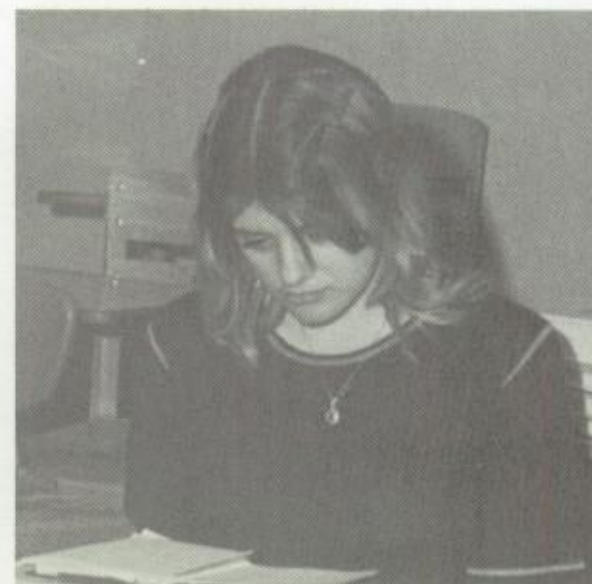

United Students of Killeen High School was one of the newest additions to the organizations. This club was formed to bring a better understanding of people to the members and to try to solve the problems of racial discrimination in the school. It brought better student-faculty relations through the organization of rap sessions. They also presented a special program in the Auditorium which explained the history of black Americans through the use of slave, spiritual, and soul songs. This program was in coordination with Black History Week. The students presented speeches on the intercom about black figures in history along with the program.

FRENCH CLUB ENJOYS FRENCH HERITAGE

The Killeen High School French Club required that all members speak French. Under the supervision of Mrs. Connie Schneider, the organization undertook many fund raising projects to finance their trip to the French Symposium, held in San Antonio, and a trip to New Orleans. The projects included selling candles, perfume, stationary, and numerous bake sales.

Cathy Kunberger studies the finances before a meeting.

NEW CLUB STRESSES CULTURE

This year's Latin Club sponsor is Mrs. Penny Kelleher.

1973 brought to KHS not only a new Latin teacher, Mrs. Kelleher, but also a new organization. Created by the students with the help of Mrs. Kelleher, the club received recognition as a member of the Junior Classical League which made them eligible for all JCL competition and scholarships in both the state and national level.

Latin Club officers are: Seated, Charleen Dunbar; Sec.-Treas.; Standing-Valerie Brown, Vice-President; Eddie Safady, President; and Melinda Dawson, Historian.

SPRECHEN SIE DEUTSCH?

To further their knowledge of German, students took an active part in German Club events. Getting their activity funds from Bake Sales and the popcorn machine, the club has traveled to Six Flags over Texas, and Lion Country Safari. In the future, the club plans to sell German candy and are making tentative plans to start a German tutoring service—to help those students having difficulty with the German language.

Officers are: Martina Lopez, Reporter; Ruth Culver, Secretary; Raymond Johnson, President; Joni Moore, Vice-President; Karen Moore, Treasurer; Vicky Culp, Historian; (not pictured).

Faculty member and German Teacher Mrs. Herta Ayers advises the club.

Members of the club work at one of the frequently held bake sales. These were used as fund-raising efforts.

STUDENTS AID LIBRARIANS

Students interested in spending their spare time in the KHS library joined the Library club at the beginning of the year. Each member was given an opportunity to shelve books, file magazines, and alphabetize the card catalogue. Taking time from their busy schedules, the club members met periodically to plan various parties. The busiest season for the club was the Yuletide festivities, where the members brought toys for the Santa Pal toy drive and hosted a Christmas party in which faculty and administration were invited.

Library club officers were Effie Davidson, Pres. and Carla Hebert, V-Pres.

I.C.T. BUILDS LEADERSHIP

Members of the I.C.T. division of V.I.C.A. learned from their on-the-job training. With one period of class instruction daily and 525 hours on the job, they were qualified to compete in area and state contests. A formal installation of officers and new members was held. The club's purpose was to promote leadership in today's students and tomorrow's working people.

ICT leaders this year are: Back Row: Steve Powell, pres.; Larry Stallings, v-pres.; John Higginbotham, tres.; Jim Sadler, rep. Front Row: Ester Lewis, sec.; Tresia Bell, parl.

Woodrow Hall, Sponsor, checks prints before publications.

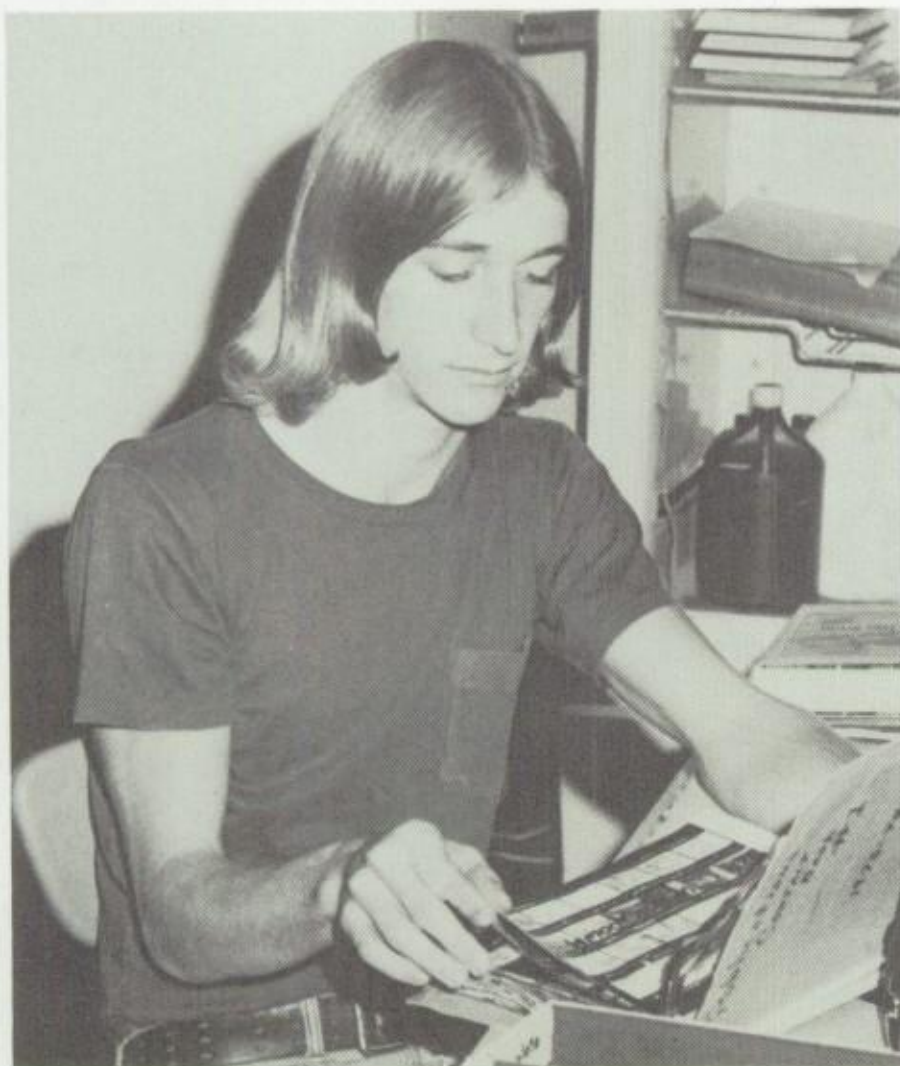

Herb Parsons makes a last minute adjustment before snapping another picture.

Sandra Vale prepares the chemicals for all the developing.

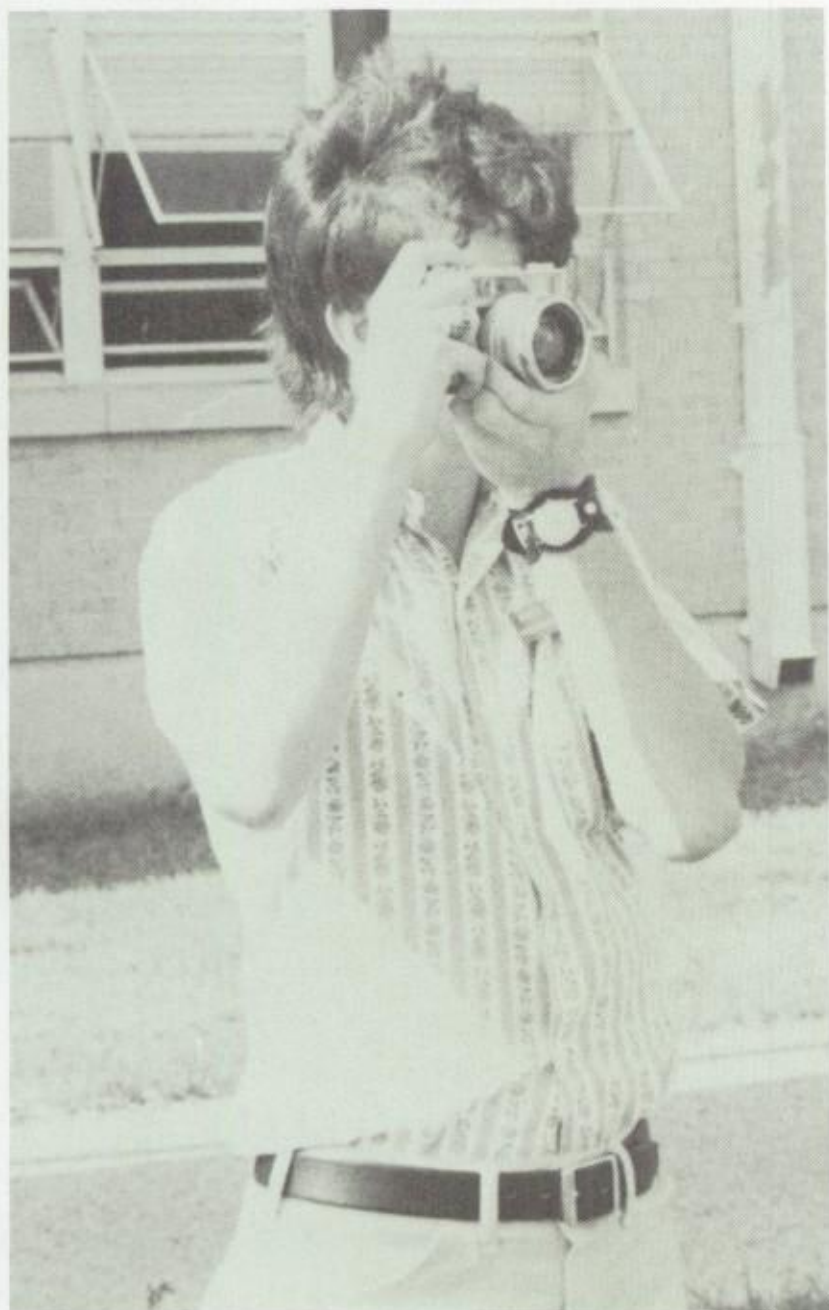

Doris Lloyd matches contacts and negatives.

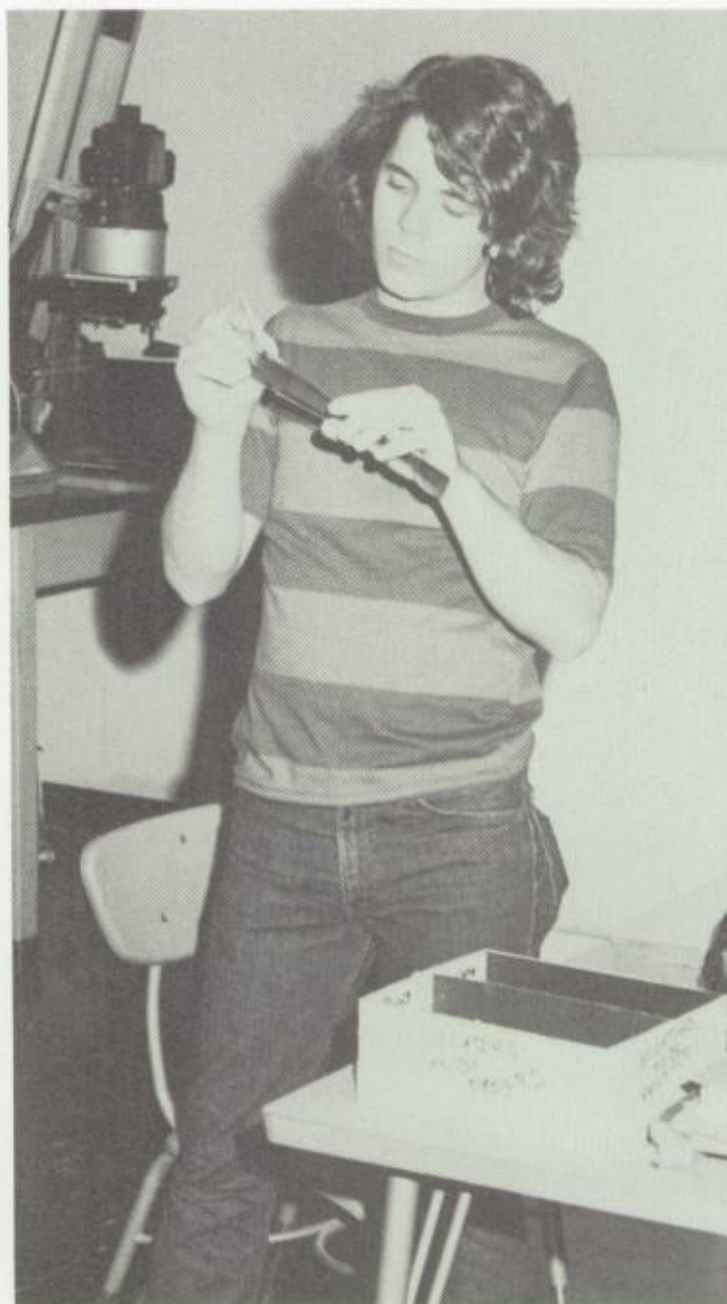

Ron Bellamy checks the contact book for the prints desired.

Publication photographers worked hard this year meeting each deadline presented by both the year-book staff and the newspaper staff. Sometimes this situation developed at the same time. Often time-consuming, the process of securing pictures for publications was organized in such a way to keep negatives and film from being lost. Photographers often spent their lunch time, their study hall, and before school working in the dark room. Pictures were scheduled for all day, but emphasis was upon after school and at lunch. This was the first year photographers received credit toward graduation.

Mack Womack zeroes in on an interesting subject.

Carl Benson checks and cleans the negatives before printing.

Leadership training in working together was the main purpose of the Radio & TV division of VICA. Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Dorrough, the officers and members travelled to various workshops in surrounding cities. The Club met in the Radio & TV room in the Vocational Building whenever it was necessary to plan a trip.

SETTING A FOUNDATION FOR THE FUTURE

Building Trades worked after school, and used their training to build an office in the Vocational building, sidewalks in the courtyards, and additions to homes in outlying areas of Killeen. With the payment of VICA dues, members planned to attend contests in Dallas, in which students tested their skills in the construction of tools, such as sawhorses and ladders. The projects were to be graded on sturdiness of construction, and use of tools in building them.

The Electrical Trades division of V.I.C.A. met once monthly in the electrical room in the vocational building. The club's officers attended the district meeting at Duncanville on November 3. This meeting was held in the High School Auditorium and was a workshop for officer training. Following the meeting, the various officers met in different rooms to discuss what the guest speaker had said. Through this meeting the officers had a wider knowledge and understanding of their roles as officers in V.I.C.A.

Electrical trades officers are: Back, Braxton Butler, David Rainwater, Raymond Tally. 2nd row Greg Coppage and Robert Persick. 1st row, Dennis Will, Troy Oliver, and Michael Davis.

Setting a first at Killeen High School this year was the induction of two young men into the Cosmetology division of V.I.C.A. Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Harrison, the division attended many contests which included the V.I.C.A. district meet held in San Antonio. First place winners then went on to compete in state competition. They also attended the All Texas Beauty Show held in Dallas in February. Members went in March, April, and May before the State Board where members received their license. The purpose of this organization was to prepare the members for a career in professional grooming.

DECA TEACHES MARKETING SKILL

Second year DE members conduct initiation ceremonies for the first year members.

DECA at Killeen High School was aimed toward preparing students for careers in distribution and marketing, with students applying for entrance during the Spring semester before entering the following year. Distributive Education prepared students for immediate continued employment upon graduation, or was taken by those planning to continue their schooling in college or other post secondary schools. DECA was the organization these students used as an extension of their class instruction. The course training involved class work, on the job training, and DECA chapter activities. Along with class instructions, students attended business orientation classes, selling principles cashiering, business organization, communication skills, sales promotion, merchandising, display, and advertising. Each student then spent two days each week in studying specific information directly related to his training station and/or career choice. DECA chapter activities gave opportunity for leadership development, social skills, community involvement, and vocational understanding.

New inductees await their turns in the DECA initiation service.

Robert Dale, Carolyn Lloyd, and Jerry Clark arrange items for the Vocational building showcase.

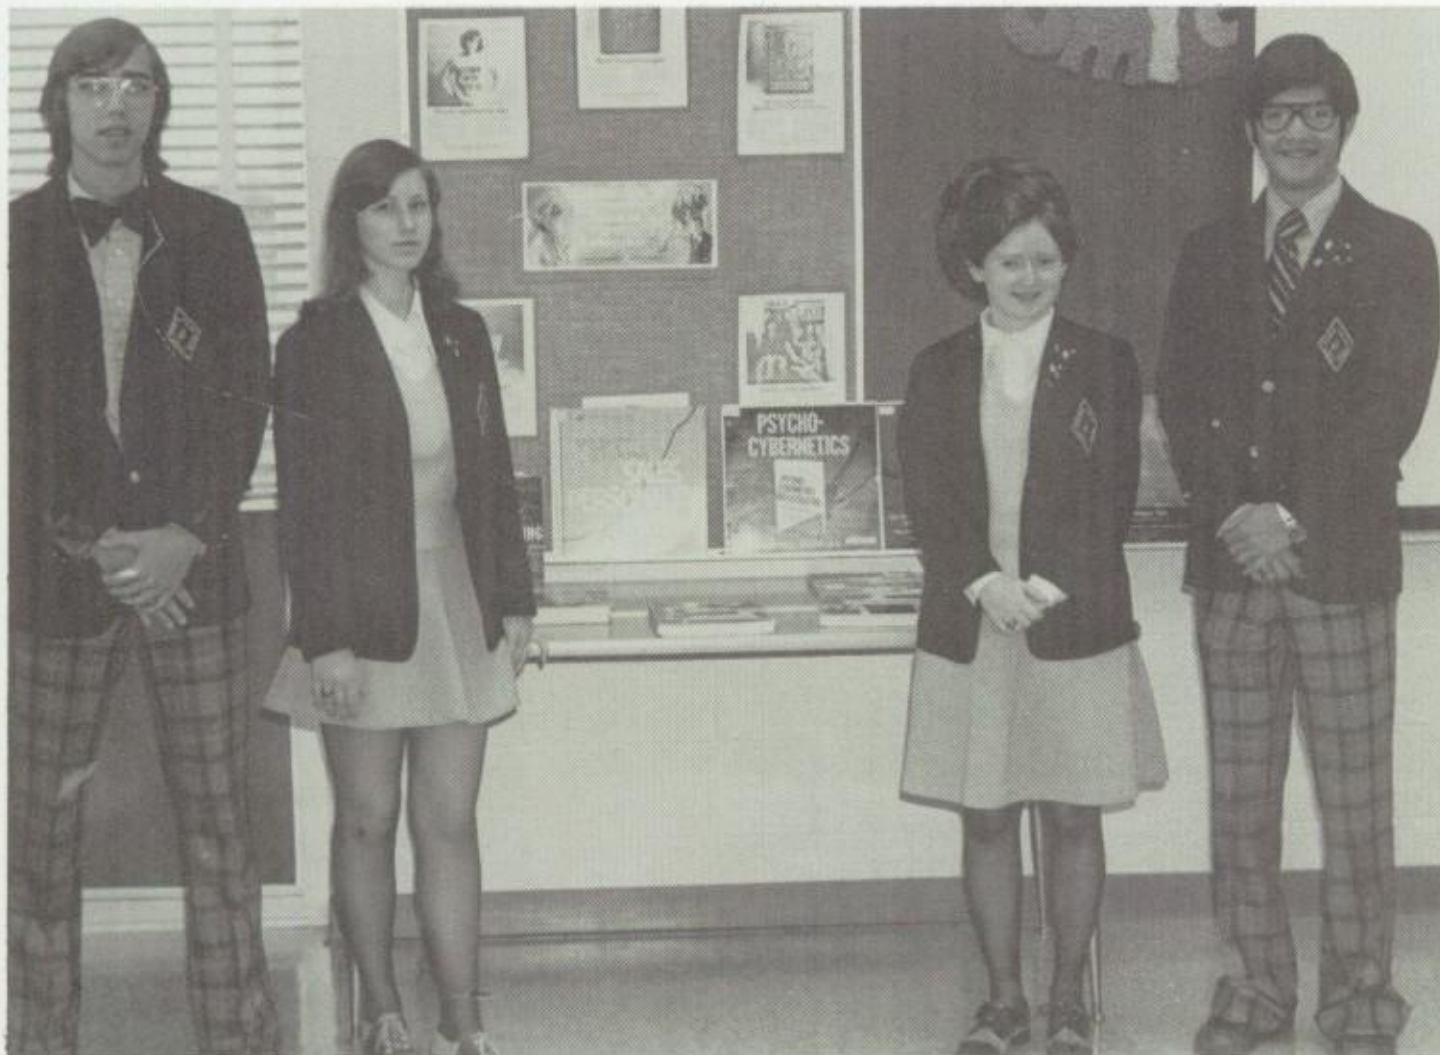

Second year Distributive Education students composed the initiating team for the first year students.

ter, Melody Adams, Patty Barkley, Melinda Sheridan, Erma Patterson, Barbara Harry, Kim Wilson. 3rd row: Iliaha Owens, Linda Klingensmith, Vera Lewis, Paula Hitchcock, Pat Kuehni, Brenda Phillips.

Stopping from her busy schedule is Ann Wade, OEA student, secretary to Mr. Simms.

Members of Vocational Office Education comprised the membership of the Killeen chapter of OEA. The club met regularly in order to elect officers and raise club funds. The methods for money making ranged between bake sales and membership dues. The sponsor, Mrs. Walker, found that the 73-74 school year was a very profitable one for the club.

Members of OEA earn club money by selling candied apples and other goodies.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DRAWS CROWD

Industrial Arts Club this year spent much of its time working the popcorn machine and holding bake sales. Each Thursday the officers met with Mr. Hackler in room 415 in order to decide what projects the club might undertake. They also took various field trips to industrial arts related seminars.

Industrial Arts officers are: Mr. Hackler, Spon., Richard Page, V-Pres., Cathy Qualls Sec., Dave Jones Parl., Darrell Prince Treas.

LEADERS CONFRONTED WITH

Coping with the energy crisis this year was the main concern of the KISD school board and Administrative Staff. One of the first things the Board did was to adjust the time schedule. Because the starting to school in the cold dark hours of the morning caused such a dangerous situation, the time was changed again. This later time was from 9:03 a.m. to 4:10 p.m. Ironically, this was the first year every room in the high school had 24" electric fans. Adjusting to the unexpected death of Superintendent Dr. C. E. Ellison also proved a major concern. The previous appointment of three Assistant Superintendents did much to help the school district overcome the situations that developed as a result of his untimely death.

MCMINN RETURNS AS HEAD PRINCIPAL

Another new addition to our administration was the return of Mr. Robert McMinn as principal, coming from Nolan Junior High. Mr. McMinn came with the expectations of helping and guiding as many Killeen High School students as possible. As a start, the sophomore orientation took on a new look. The procedure, similar to a readers' theater, was held on the stage with the students sitting on mats. So students could voice their opinions with the superintendent, he was instrumental in the formation of the Superintendent Student Advisory Board which met periodically with Superintendent C. E. Ellison. Also, a detention hall was formed for students with minor offenses thus reducing the reasons why students were absent from school or were assigned to the Special Assignment Center. The student body knew Mr. McMinn was behind Killeen High School "all the way."

NEW ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS ADDED

Among the changes at Killeen High this year were the new additions in the administration branch. Mr. Bob Caskey and Mr. Roy Hunt were added to the assistant principal staff. Our office officials provided guidance to the students' problems, correction when needed, and encouraging words to distraught teachers.

SECRETARIES AID MANY

Not only did our counselors give of themselves during the school year, but also during the summer when writing out the computerized schedules. With the variety of subjects offered, students followed a well worn path to the guidance center to talk to their respective counselors. Always willing to help, our counselors met disturbed students with reassuring smiles and workable suggestions for solving their problems.

Our secretaries did their part in keeping track of the large amount of paperwork that came as a result of the changing schedules. Keeping up with 2581 students, 148 teachers, truancies, tardies, absentees, late business and custodians was a job in itself.

1400 LUNCHERS ATTACK FOOD

KHS was the scene of variety in lunches as students were served from not only the cafeteria, but also the concession stands, candy machines, and popcorn stand. As a result of the energy crisis and food shortages, hamburgers were served twice a week, while soy-bean burgers also made frequent appearances. With the price of lunches fluctuating monthly, students were sometimes forced to purchase the items that they were able to afford, whether they liked it or not. During the course of two lunch hours, a total of 1400 students were usually served, while 400 hamburgers and sandwiches were usually made for the concession stand alone. In the cafeteria, they enjoyed a change in the menu when human relations week went into effect throughout the school district. Foods from foreign countries or cultural backgrounds were used to feed the hungry lunchers.

NEW FACILITY ADDED

Library workers find diligent work necessary when running an efficient library.

This year a new Xerox copier was added to the library facilities with funds donated from several school organizations. The copier provided students a method of quickly obtaining information needed for reports. Constant additions of textbooks, fiction, and non-fiction along with new magazine subscriptions helped K.H.S. provide one of the best multi-use high school libraries in the area. In addition, the library was used more this year than before with the extended lunch period providing a place of quietness and solitude for those students who desired this type of break at lunch.

FILMS SUPPLEMENT HEALTH CLASSES

One of the Texas state required courses offered was Health. The course was important in that it developed understanding of personal and medical problems. Relating to the students the necessity of first aid in emergencies was another duty of the Health department. The curriculum was enriched by numerous films shown in the comfortable A.V. room. These films generated extra interest in the study of health.

SEVEN YEARS OF SERVICE—ROTC

Robert Zimmerman
Department Head

Junior Reserved Officer Training Corps began its seventh year with a new program for twenty volunteers. The group known as the Rangers, worked on weekends and before and after school to learn of the ways of the Rangers. For the daily ROTC classes, the year began with a minimum of problems and an outlook of leadership and good citizenship. Activities included raising the flag each morning, and presenting the colors, parking the cars at football games, and ushering fans at football games. They also acted as guides at Career Night and open house. The branches included Wallaby Debs, Drill Team, Rifle Team, and the Rangers. The Jr. ROTC was truly an asset to Killeen High School.

HISTORY MAPS NEW COURSES

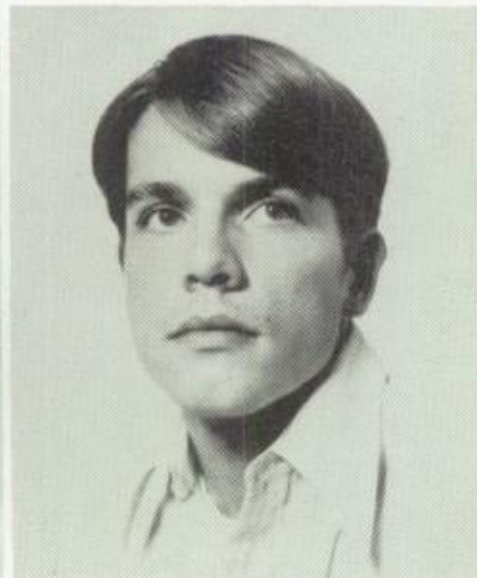

Choosing from sixty-five courses, students found their history classes interesting, fun, and smaller this year. Some classes performed plays and filmed themselves in the process, while others created interesting projects. The lack of textbooks was hardly noticed as the qualified teaching staff related moments of history to their students through use of the various media.

DRIVER EDUCATION BRAKES AHEAD

Driver Education began this year with a minimum of difficulty with the quarter system a boon to the program. Students received credit for the first time this year. Students took the thirty-two hours of class instruction, as required by the Texas Department of Public Safety, the first quarter. The second and third quarters were reserved for the six hours of actual driving and the six hours of in-car observation.

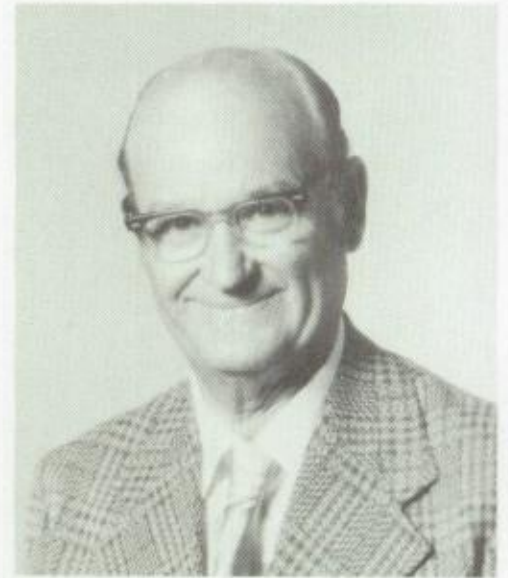

Driver Education was partially affected by the fuel crisis this year as the country came up with a shortage of fuel.

The Driver Education Department had seven cars donated by major manufacturers.

AREA VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Killeen High School offered many excellent opportunities for practical training. This year two new courses were added to the vocational training program, Agriculture Cooperative Education and Home Economics Cooperation Education. With these new additions, there were thirteen vocational courses offered to K.H.S. students. One of the major projects this year was the laying of much needed sidewalks between the band and choir patio area. This year there were approximately seven hundred students enrolled in vocational education.

SCIENCE OFFERS VARIED LEVELS

Margaret Teague
Department Head

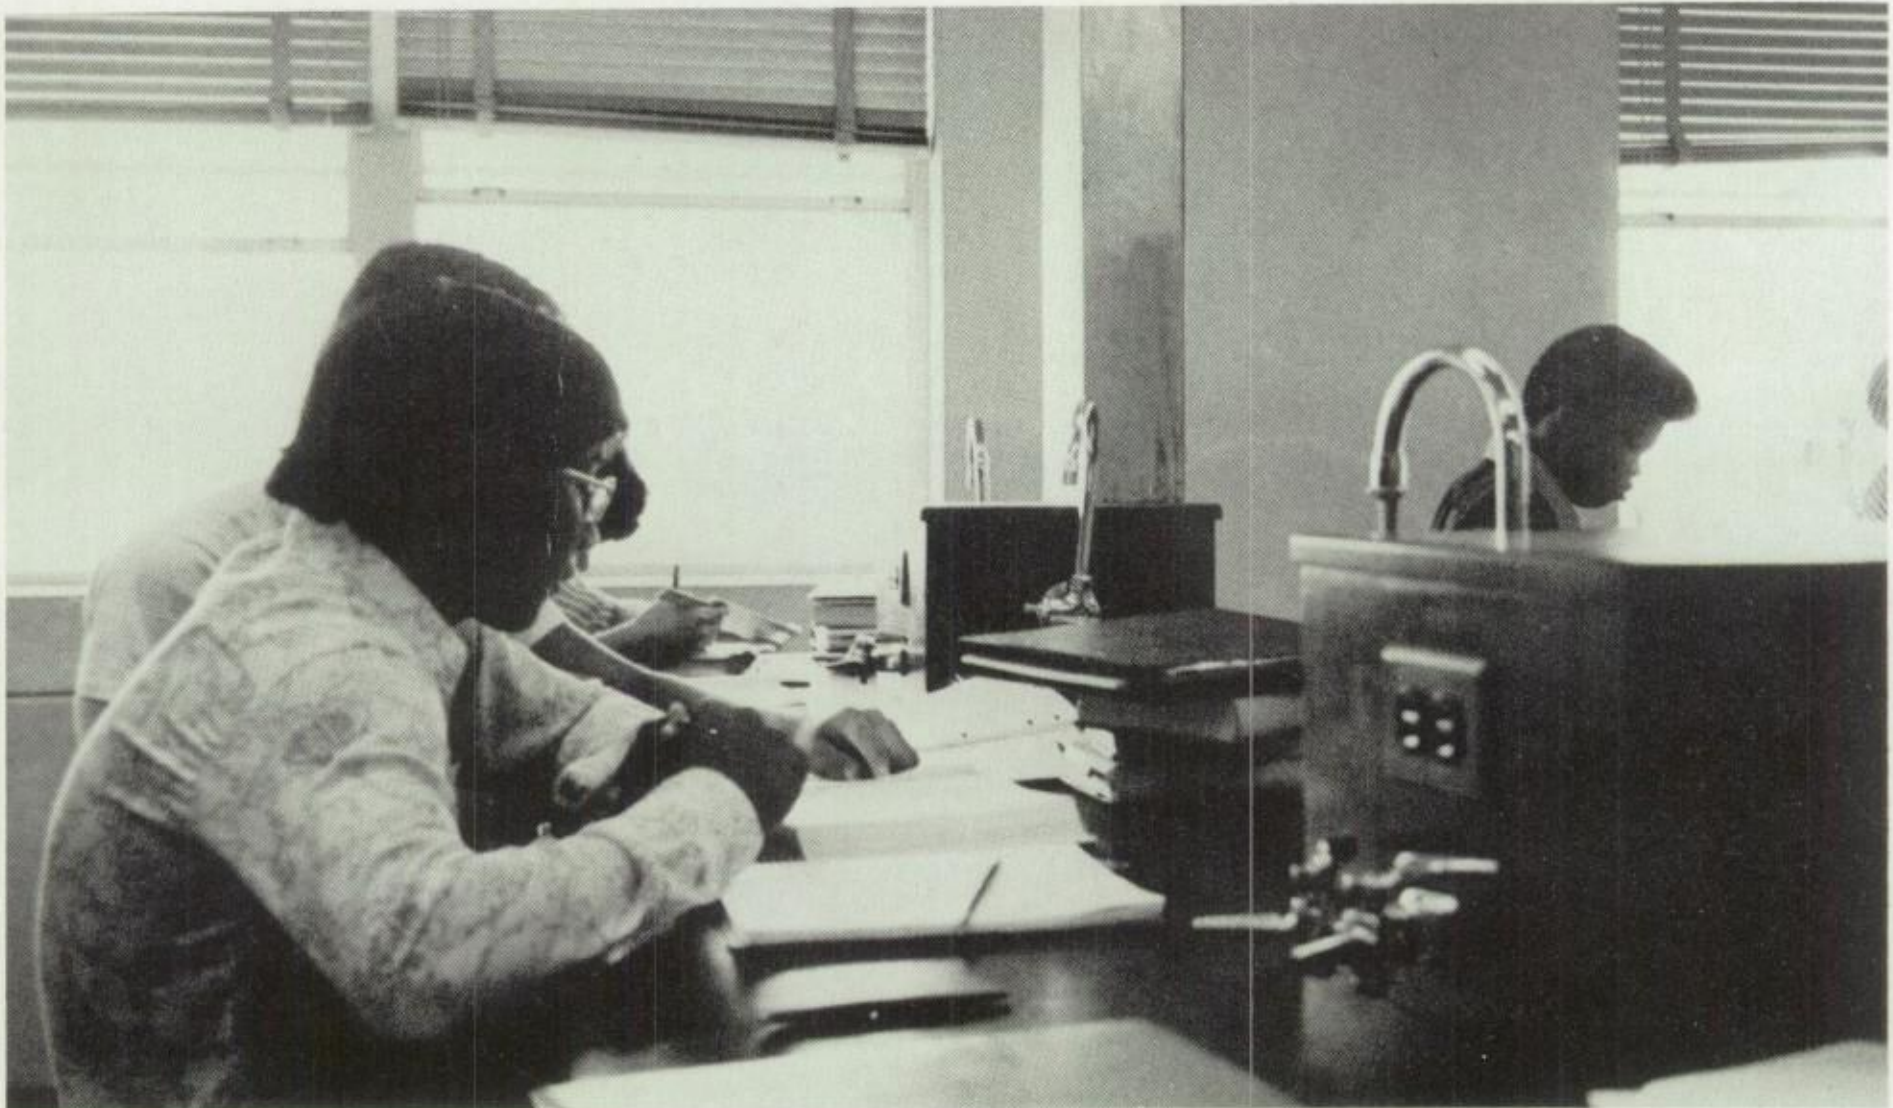

Killeen High School's science department was one of the very few schools in the state of Texas with a department head holding the degree Doctor of Philosophy in Radiation Biology. Dr. Margaret Teague worked alongside the other science teachers in developing a variety of course offerings through the flexibility of the quarter system. Students received much more individual attention because the classes were smaller in size. Thus, pupils were able to open their minds to newer facets and levels of Biology, Chemistry, Physical Science, and Physics.

ENGLISH OFFERS NEW COURSES

Jacquie Patterson
Department Head

From one look into the English department office no one would have guessed that there had been a shortage of textbooks. Yet there was. Since many courses used paperback books some students found that they had to share. But with the qualified English staff, this problem was hardly noticed. Approximately sixty courses were offered under the quarter system and one grammar course was required, for sophomores. The rest were for the students' choices. Among them were biographies, myths, creative writing, American drama, poetry, research paper and many others. With these offers, the English classes were very gratifying this year.

NEW COURSES CAUSE CHANGE IN

Changes have been made this year in the math department and one is Mrs. Peggy Watson, Trig. and Algebra II teacher, as the head of the math department. The quarter system has proven effective in a more organized math program. For the first time Algebra II was offered to sophomores. The well-qualified staff had added eight new math teachers. For the first time bowling was offered as a choice for Physical Education. In addition, a newer innovation at KHS—coed classes in physical education. On alternating days, the bowling classes participated in other sports. Badminton, Tumbling, Archery, Basketball, Volleyball, Tennis, Baseball & Track were some of the various sports offered, along with physical conditioning. These help provide the student with a sport that he could use later on, plus enjoy and benefit from today.

“DEDICATED SERVICE”

FAST

FRIENDLY

Fast service. Fair settlement of claims. Friendly people who are on your side.

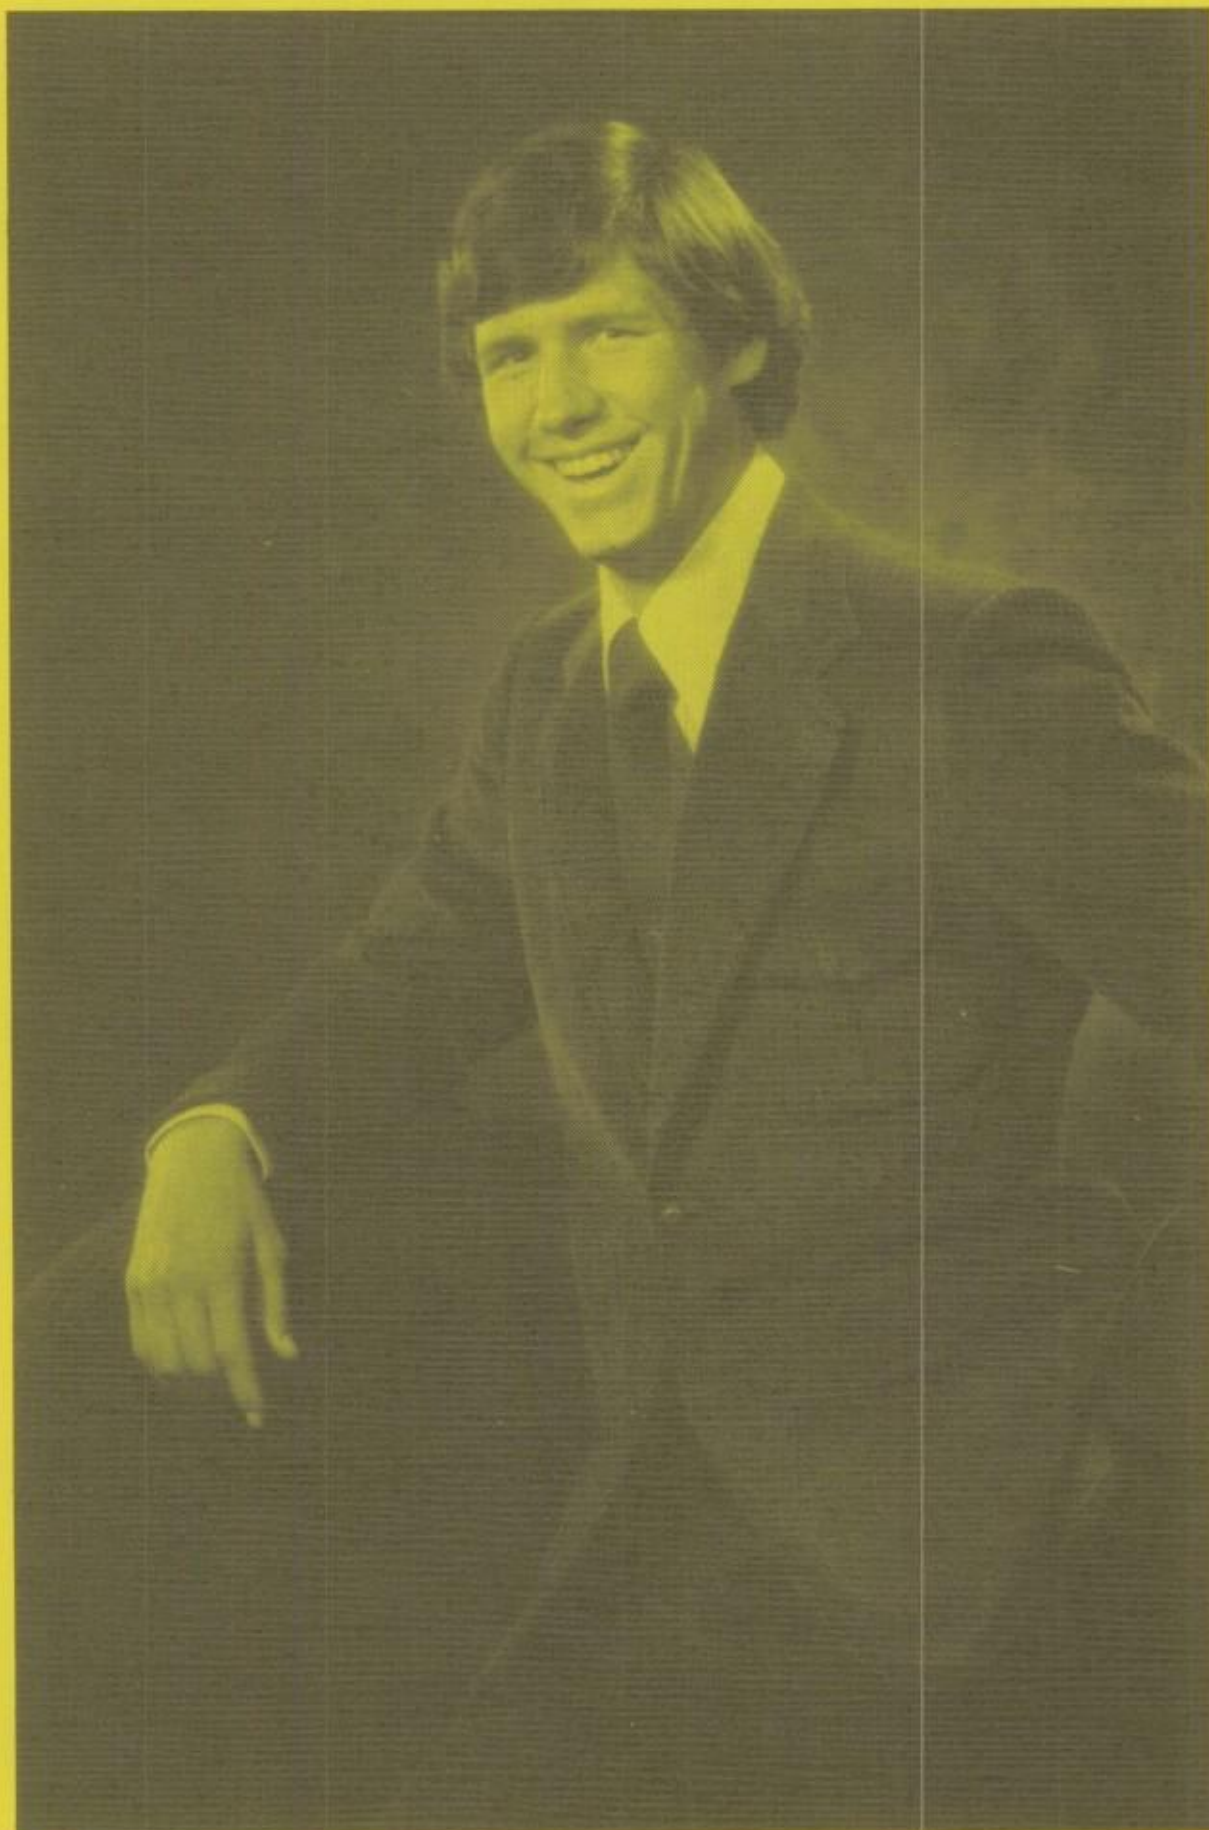

You can't buy better protection. Or broader coverage. Or greater peace of mind.

And you save money, too! Lower rates because Farmers insures careful drivers.

This year was ours.
We laughed and we cried.
We worked and we played.
We won and we lost.
But through it all we found faith in a
Genesis: A Birth of Hope and Peace.

Each time you look through these pages and remember this year, it is our hope that you too will experience a Genesis:
Beginning right now.
